AMERICA AND BRITAIN HALT CRUISER PROGRAMS AS 46 COUNTRIES CELEBRATE PACT TO END WAR

WAR RENUNCIATION TREATY IN EFFECT HOOPER DECREES

President's Announcement Is Made at Colorful Meeting Staged in East Room of White House.

COOLIDGE, KELLOGG ATTEND CEREMONY

Representatives of 46 Nations, Signatory or Adhering to Treaty of Eternal Peace Present.

BY JOHN R. MORRIS.
Washington, July 24.—(Special.)—The general pact for the renunciation of war, commonly referred to as the Kellogg-Briand treaty, today was proclaimed effective by the president of the United States, "to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof."

The ceremony attending the proclamation began at 1 p. m. in the east room of the White House, attended by former President Coolidge and former Secretary of State Kellogg, during whose administration the now famous treaty was negotiated and signed. Others present, besides high American officials, were envoys of almost every nation which ratified or adhered to the pact.

The anti-war treaty, which was invoked last week to avert a threatened Russo-Chinese war and which is credited with creating an international state of mind favorable to amicable settlement of a Paraguayan-Bolivian dispute a few months ago, actually had become effective an hour earlier when the Japanese instrument of ratification was deposited by Ambassador Debiishi of the state department.
The only officials participating in the ceremony of deposit, which was performed exactly at noon, were the ambassador and Secretary of State Stimson.

Process Completed.
Deposit of the ratification of Japan, last of the 15 original signatories to transmit its ratification to Washington, completed the process defined in the treaty for making the agreement technically effective and binding.

Of the negotiations leading to the consummation of the pact and the action of 48 nations associating themselves with the original signatories by adhering formally to its terms, President Hoover in his proclamation address said:
"That the action of Kellogg in opening negotiations with the original signatories was a proposal to the conscience and idealism of civilized nations. It suggested a new step in international law, rich with meaning, pregnant with new ideas in the conduct of world relations. It represented a platform from which there is instant appeal to the public opinion of the world as to specific acts and deeds."

"The magnificent response of the world to these proposals is well indicated by those now signatory to its provisions."

The president expressed pleasure at the number of nations in addition to the original signatories which have allied themselves with the first 15 signers. Of these, totaling 38, the treaty immediately became legally binding on only 21, whose instruments of adherence had been deposited at the state department.

Three Countries Sign.
The state department said the time had been informed that the instruments of seven more, making a total of 53 signatory and adhering nations,

Two Taxation Bills Voted Favorably By Assembly Body

Solon Dies

Congressman Leslie J. Steele, of Decatur, who died early Wednesday in Washington.

FUNERAL SUNDAY FOR L. J. STEELE

Body of Georgia Congressman Who Died in Capital To Arrive Here Friday Morning.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
Washington, July 24.—(Special.)— Representative Leslie J. Steele, of the fifth Georgia district, who died here early today after an operation for gallstones, will be buried at his old home in Decatur next Sunday afternoon. The body of the Georgia congressman, accompanied by congressional assistants, friends and members of the family, will be taken to Atlanta Thursday afternoon on a special funeral car provided by the federal government.

The Georgia delegation in congress, including both United States senators, has been designated by the house sergeant-at-arms, Rogers, to act as an honorary escort. Members of the state group have been asked to meet the funeral train upon its arrival in Atlanta Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock and later accompany it to Decatur, where services will be held in the Presbyterian church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Representative Steele's death came as a distinct shock to his relatives and many friends at the capital. After an illness of more than a month he had gone to Garfield Memorial hospital, here, about a week ago for treatment.

FIGHT IN SENATE LOOMS ON 6-CENT GAS TAX MEASURE

Myrick Will Lead Forces Seeking To Hold Levy to Five Cents Per Gallon; Hard Battle Predicted.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

As the house of representatives passed a six cents a gallon gasoline tax measure at its session Wednesday, State Senator Shelby Myrick, of the first district, announced that he would wage a fight in the senate against passage of the six-cent levy in that branch and would ask that the maximum tax be fixed at five cents a gallon. He also declared that all the money derived from the five cent tax should be turned over to the highway department for road purposes, and announced he would oppose the allocation of any part of this proposed tax, either to the counties of the state or to the common school equalization fund as provided in the bill that passed the house Wednesday by a vote of 167 to 29.

The bill passed Wednesday was a composite bill prepared by the ways and means committee. It increases the present tax from four to six cents.
Senator Myrick announced after passage of this bill in the house, that a strong fight would be waged against its passage in the senate. He also said a fight would be carried out for the stabilization of the gasoline tax and a stabilization of the road mileage in the state road system through the common school equalization fund as provided in the bill that passed the house Wednesday by a vote of 167 to 29.

At the session of the committee Wednesday afternoon, imposition of the gross income tax was discussed by J. P. Allen and W. O. Foote, Atlanta business men, who were delegated as spokesmen for the state-wide association of retailers and merchants.
Mr. Allen opposed the measure on the ground that it was "fundamentally wrong and would be injurious to the state." He stated, however, that if the committee was determined to adopt a gross income tax, retail merchants should be placed on the same basis as wholesalers and manufacturers, who pay a tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent instead of one-fifth of 1 per cent as provided in the bill. Representatives of the merchants body from other parts of the state also were present. A. S. Nance, representing the Atlanta Federation of Trades, spoke before the committee and advocated passage of the bill.

While the ways and means committee was disposing of these measures, the constitutional amendments committee of the two branches held a joint session and heard arguments for and against the levy of an income tax of one-tenth of 1 per cent on the total income of individuals. The committees considered a bill which empowers the legislature to levy an income tax but did not stipulate any rate of taxation.

Favorable Report.
The ways and means committee previously returned a favorable report on a measure providing for an income tax levy at a rate of one-third of the rate charged by the federal government. This measure is designed to produce $4,500,000 in revenue annually. At the session of the committee
Wednesday former Governor Thomas W. Hardwick spoke as an advocate of the theory of levying an income tax while Albert C. Alden, of Atlanta, spoke against the proposal.

One of the seven bills introduced in the house was by Representative Griffin, Decatur, a request that the house be furnished a sworn statement from officials of the University of Georgia and its branches as to the amounts paid by persons affiliated with the university in hotel bills, railroad fares and incidental expenses in connection with securing of appropriations or other legislation before the 1927 and 1929 general assemblies.
Similar information was sought on money received by university officials for articles written for publication or for radio broadcasts, and on all gifts, prizes and subscriptions during the fiscal years of 1926, 1927, 1928 and 1929 to date.

Steele Resolution.
The other resolution adopted expressed the sympathy of the house to friends and relatives of Congressman Leslie J. Steele, of the fifth congressional district, who died today in Washington.

Representative Traynor, Richmond, declined to a point of personal privilege, denounced what he termed a vicious attack from the office of the governor on the feeble-minded children of Georgia. He referred specifically to a section of Governor Hardin's special message to the legislature Tuesday, which dealt with conditions at the state school for mental defectives at Gracewood. At Mr. Traynor's request this portion of the message was read again today from the clerk's desk.

"I deny every charge made by the governor of Georgia as being believing in the inferiority of the race,"

ST. SIMONS' ISLAND IS HOST TO FLEET FOR SECOND NIGHT

Pelham, Thomasville, Valdosta, Brunswick,
Waycross and Douglas Visited During Day.

BY N. S. NOBLE.

City Editor of The Constitution.
Brunswick, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Half way around the state, the "All-Georgia Air Tour" at 4:07 o'clock this afternoon landed at Redfern field on St. Simons island and called it a day. And a great day it was.
Large crowds were on hand at every airport, reaching several thousand at some cities, providing every courtesy and every form of entertainment for which the Empire State is noted. The route on time and departed on schedule.

From Albany to Brunswick, via Pelham, Thomasville, Valdosta, Douglas and Waycross, the second day's flight around the state was climaxed here tonight by a dinner to the air tour party at the Yacht Club and a dance at the casino on St. Simons beach.

Redfern field this afternoon was as pretty a sight from the air as one could wish to see. Cool breezes from the Atlantic greeted the fliers as Brunswick was sighted. Then across the city to the ocean the squadron circled its way to the airport and there from above the passengers and pilots of this aerial party looked down upon a crowd numbering hundreds and hundreds of persons gathered waiting for the squadron to land.

The field swarmed with people as soon as the last ship dropped down and taxied to its place on the line.
Planes were quickly stacked down for the night and the four party was in the hands of the Brunswick Board of Trade committee.

The Spirit of Brunswick, piloted by E. W. Hightower, was placed in the center of the field and christened with champagne as a final ceremony before the air tour guests were taken to the Oglethorpe hotel for a short rest until the hour of the dinner at the Yacht Club.

After leaving Valdosta the squadron headed for Douglas. Rains in scattered storms were ahead and six ships went directly to Waycross, where Miss Georgia, Major Luke Christenpinner and Captain A. B. McDowell, United States army air corps, Miss Atlanta and several others stopped to meet the crowd awaiting their arrival.
The trip from Douglas to Waycross was directly by a series of light rainstorms, none of which was serious enough to hinder flying. Ex-

Text of Kellogg Treaty To Renounce War Given

Washington, July 24.—(Special.)—The text of the Kellogg treaty to renounce war contains the following preamble and articles:

"Deeply sensible that their high obligations upon them a solemn duty to promote the welfare of mankind;
"Inspired by a common desire not only to perpetuate the peaceful and friendly relations now happily subsisting between their peoples, but also to prevent war among any of the nations of the world;

"Desirous by formal act to bear unmistakable witness that they condemn war as an instrument of national policy and renounce it in favor of the peaceful settlement of international disputes;

"Hopeful that, encouraged by their example, all the other nations of the world will join in this humane endeavor and by adhering to the present treaty as soon as it comes into force bring their peoples within the scope of its beneficent provisions, thus uniting the civilized nations of the world in a common renunciation of war as an instrument of their national policy;

"Have decided to conclude a treaty and for that purpose have appointed their respective plenipotentiaries (here follows the names of the executives and rulers and blank spaces for the names of the plenipotentiaries) who, having communicated to one another their full powers found in good and due form have agreed upon the following articles:

"Article 1. The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

"Article 2. The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by peaceful means.

"Article 3. The present treaty shall be ratified by the high contracting parties named in the preamble in accordance with their respective constitutional requirements, and shall take effect as between them as soon as all their several instruments of ratification shall have been deposited at Washington.

"This treaty shall, when it has come into effect as prescribed in the preceding paragraph, remain open as long as may be necessary for adherence by all the other powers of the world. Every instrument evidencing the adherence of a power shall be deposited at Washington and the treaty shall immediately upon such deposit become effective as between the power thus adhering and the other power parties thereto.

"It shall be the duty of the government of the United States to furnish each government named in the preamble and every government subsequently adhering to this treaty with a certified copy of the treaty and of every instrument of ratification or adherence. It shall also be the duty of the government of the United States telegraphically to notify such government immediately upon the deposit with it of each instrument of ratification or adherence."

ROBIN NEARS END OF 12TH DAY ALOFT

Old Records Fade as Aviators Continue
Flight Over St. Louis Field.

St. Louis, July 24.—(Special.)—Without visible signs of faltering the monoplane St. Louis Robin and its sturdy pilots, Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brien, drove on toward new fame tonight as they neared the end of their twelfth day of sustained flight.

They had left the old endurance record of the Angeleno more than a full day behind them, and the fliers, in good spirits, were confident of passing the 300-hour mark. They hoped to keep going for 500 hours. It was to be a test to the finish between the stamina of man and motor. At 6:17
p. m. they had been up 275 hours.

The motor seemed to observers of the flight to be droning smoothly, despite Jackson's statement today that several cylinders "act like they had the toothache."

For each hour they reeled off in excess of the former record, Jackson and O'Brien were assured of receiving $110, and tonight they had earned more than $3,000. "They'll never come down," one of their buddies commented. The money was to be paid by St. Louis firms and the makers of the Challenger motor with which the plane is powered.

Upon passing its 275th hour, the St.
Louis Robin had traveled more than 16,000 miles, consumed more than 2,300 gallons of gasoline, over 305 gallons of oil, and the propeller had revolved more than 20,000,000 times.
It had made 49 contacts with its refueling plane for all purposes.

HOUSTON FLIERS
STILL GOING STRONG.
Houston, Texas, July 24.—(Special.)— Having run up more than a full week of flying on its biplane, the endurance plane Billion Dollar City tonight was soaring toward an undetermined goal.
That of surpassing whatever record the St. Louis Robin is destined to set. One hundred and seventy-two hours of flying was completed by the Houston fliers at 5:49:54 p. m.

A light refueling was completed at 4 p. m. and the nightly load of gas, oil and food was taken on board darkness fell.

Glenn L. Loomis and Joe Glass, pilots of the plane, were in good physical condition and their ship was working with precision.

Two Days of Constitu- tion's Free Exposition Remain—Brilliant Suc- cess, Is Scored Wednes- day.

With only two days remaining of the great modern cooking school being presented by The Constitution at Loew's Grand theater, gigantic efforts are being made in every phase of the undertaking to make available for the thousands of Atlanta women crowding the theater for each session all details of the expert lectures, officials in charge of the school stated Wednesday in announcing arrangements for installing Graybar electric giant amplifying equipment.

"The smooth handling of record-breaking crowds on the opening and second days of the exposition is one of the notable features that have marked the brilliant success of the free electric cooking school that Miss Bernice Lowen, eminent food authority of Chicago, is directing for The Constitution," the officials pointed out. "Nevertheless, we feel obligated, because of the remarkable eagerness exhibited by Atlanta housewives in seeking the educational offerings of the cooking course, to insure every person attending from those in the front row to those overflowing to the most distant seats of the third balcony, against missing any detail of Miss Lowen's lectures and explanations."

Theater Filled.
"With this aim in view, the performance this morning and Friday morning will be extended over the theater with the most efficient amplifying equipment. The electric giant amplifiers are being loaned and installed by Graybar Electric Company, wholesale distributors," it was announced.

As was predicted by those connected with the school following the opening session of the four-day event, word of the heretofore unequalled food exposition spread rapidly over the city and its suburbs with the result that many persons had to be turned away Wednesday because the large seating capacity of the theater was taxed to the maximum. Authorities conducting the cooking school advise early attendance by housewives who want to make sure of having a seat when the stage performance starts at 10 a. m. Particularly women, who find it necessary to bring their children with them, are advised by officials to come early so they will be able to obtain balcony seats, as it has been requested that the orchestra floor be reserved for adults only.

Today's New Recipes.
The new recipes announced for today's program by Miss Lowen, nationally famous home economist of the Chicago Electric Cooking bureau, who will demonstrate and lecture on the modern methods of preparation, include nine choice items of the culinary art. These are pink angel cake, vegtable dinner, broiled chicken, orange and mint salad, deviled crab, Somer-

VISIT OF PREMIER TO BE NEXT STEP

Arrival in America and United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, July 24.—President Hoover followed up his proclamation of the Kellogg peace pact today with almost breath-taking speed by joining Premier MacDonald, of Great Britain, in suspending present naval building as a basis of negotiations for further disarmament which are expected in the fall when MacDonald plans to visit here.

Just three hours after he had pre-claimed the peace pact in the presence of diplomats of more than two score nations which are signatories, he issued a statement at the White House announcing that this country would hold up laying of keels for three cruisers scheduled this fall pending negotiations for further disarmament.

This matches the announcement of MacDonald today in the British house of commons that his government would suspend all work on two cruisers, now under construction, cancel a depot ship and two submarines contracted for, and cancel all work on the 1929 naval program until autumn.

President Hoover expressed complete accord with MacDonald, who had announced that as soon as Anglo-American differences over disarmament are cleared up, which is the purpose of his visit this fall, the powers represented at the 1921 Washington arms conference will be invited to preliminary conferences "so that all together may try to come to an agreement of a comprehensive character."

President Hoover, referring to MacDonald's statement, said "the prime minister introduces the principle of parity which we have now adopted and his consummation means that Great Britain and the United States henceforth are not to compete in armaments as potential opponents but to cooperate as friends in the reduction of it."

The president, in his statement today, welcomed MacDonald's proposed visit of himself and the United States.

FULTON AND CAMPBELL COUNTY MERGER ASKED

Representative Gullatt Offers Bill for Consolidation by Vote of People.

Great benefits will come to Fulton and Campbell counties through their consolidation into one county as provided in a bill introduced in the legislature Wednesday, Representative C.

H. Gullatt, of Campbell county, author of the bill, declares. The bill provides that the merging of the two counties shall be by a vote of the people of the counties concerned.

Outlining the chief features of his measure Representative Gullatt issued the following statement:

"The merging of Fulton and Campbell counties would not doubt be to the best interests of both counties. Both counties are small, lying side by side, and after they are combined into one county, that county will not be as large as a great many counties in Georgia.

Good Railroads.

"Campbell county has two of the best railroad systems in the state running through the heart of the county and for several miles these railroads parallel each other, offering the finest manufacturing sites anywhere in the south. These sites are cheap and no doubt would soon be occupied by hundreds of industrial plants if brought under the control, resources and influence of the great county of Fulton.

"Campbell county is one of the most progressive and fertile counties in the state. The county has 250 miles of graded public roads, the main highway being concrete and many of the others being topsoiled, and we have a small indebtedness. The school buildings are good; the free schools run for seven months; the teachers are paid promptly, and the county board of education not only is out of debt, but has a surplus.

"My merger bill provides for a referendum to the voters of both Campbell and Fulton. It would be necessary for two-thirds of the voters of Campbell county to vote in favor of the merger before this question could be submitted to the people of Fulton. This would require a special election called for the purpose of voting on the merger on or before September 1, 1931. If the voters of both counties vote in favor of the merger it would go into effect January 1, 1932.

Prolonged Study.

"This would give the county commissioners of both counties, the mayor and council of Atlanta, the Chamber of Commerce and the people more than two years to look into the advisability of merging the two counties. When the great industrial future that Campbell county has is considered I am sure the people of Fulton county will be overwhelmingly in favor of the merger. Naturally, I believe the people of Campbell county are in favor of the merger or I would not have introduced the bill.

"Fulton county needs more than anything else a large area that is suitable for any and all kinds of manufacturing plants. Campbell county with more than 30 miles of railroad frontage, with ample water supply and electrical energy, is an ideal place for the future industrial center of Fulton county. Campbell county needs more than anything else the influence of Fulton county in locating industrial plants in this section."

FLORIDA ON TRIAL, CARLTON DECLARES

Executive Speaks at Session of County Commissioners, Pleading for Co-operation.

Chipley, Fla., July 24.—(AP)—Florida is on trial and its public officials and citizens must co-operate to "bring the state through," Governor Doyle E. Carlton declared in an address here today.

Speaking at a meeting of the county commissioners of ten West Florida counties, Governor Carlton said the next four years, to a great extent, would determine the destiny of the state.

He uttered a plea for co-operation of the citizenship of the state and for the discarding of "sectionalism."

Referring to the increase in the state mileage to 14 1/4 mills, Governor Carlton said such an increase was necessary to care for increased expenses of the state. He pointed out that during the past three years the expense tax to six cents a gallon had increased from $14,000,000 to $44,000,000.

"I am willing to take the responsibility for my shoulders," the chief executive said. "I believe that the new laws are the solution of the state's financial problems. I believe that the people of the state will co-operate to build a Florida of sound foundation, not a Florida of reckless speculation."

Governor Carlton touched upon the additional one cent gasoline tax levy passed by the last session of the legislature, which brought the total to six cents a gallon. He said he did not favor the levy, but that "an additional tax levy of some kind was needed" to care for the schools of the state.

"I was not favorable to the additional one cent tax on gasoline," the governor declared. "I say so because the cost of operating the state department $117,000, the road department for six months $240,000, and that the operations of the highway department had been cut more than half."

"I have been criticized for failing to get the bill increasing the gasoline tax," the governor said. "I have no apologies to make. The schools needed that money and never would I close the door of opportunity to the young manhood and womanhood of this state. I am willing to take the consequences."

Governor Carlton commended the recent legislature for the creating of a marketing board.

Economy in government is essential to the state even with the increased taxes, the chief executive said, because of the increased cost of operation. He declared that during the first five months of this year the state had spent the cost of operating its auto tag department $117,000, the road department for six months $240,000, and that the operations of the highway department had been cut more than half.

"I have been criticized for failing to get the bill increasing the gasoline tax," the governor said. "I have no apologies to make. The schools needed that money and never would I close the door of opportunity to the young manhood and womanhood of this state. I am willing to take the consequences."

Governor Carlton commended the recent legislature for the creating of a marketing board.

7 JURORS ACCEPTED FOR TRIAL OF SNOOK

Columbus, Ohio, July 24.—(AP)—Seven jurors, including four women, were seated tentatively today at the opening of the trial of Dr. James H. Snook, deposed Ohio State university professor charged with first degree murder of Theora K. Hix, his 24-year-old co-ed paramour.

"Emotional insanity" and self-defense were indicated as the probable basis of defense in the questions put to the prospective jurors by John F. Siedel and Mac Seyfert, Snook's attorneys.

Against this defense, John J. Chester, Jr., county prosecutor, and his aides, will attempt to prove that the 49-year-old professor killed the girl "with forethought." Chester will use Snook's confession against him.

The confession said Dr. Snook and Miss Hix had been secretly intimate for several years but that she had threatened to kill his wife and child. During a quarrel, Snook said, he thought the co-ed reached for a gun and he beat her on the head with a hammer and then slit her throat "to end her suffering."

More than 400 persons sought admittance to the court today but only 175 were allowed past special gates to the room, which were guarded by a corps of officers.

Dr. Snook appeared in court wearing the same gray suit in which he was arrested June 15, two days after the killing. His expression generally was firm but he relaxed frequently. Several times he smiled broadly and once almost laughed at some remark by Attorney Seyfert.

AMELIA EARHART GETS 12 MINUTES IN DIVING SUIT

Block Island, R. I., July 24.—(AP)—Miss Amelia Earhart, thwarted in her attempt to get a taste of deep-sea diving Monday, tried it again yesterday and remained under 12 minutes.

She was lowered from the privately-owned submarine Defender. When she started down from the same craft Tuesday she was suddenly pulled to the surface. Although reports stated that she had pulled the signal rope, it developed that the reason for the sudden end of the venture was the discovery of a leak in her diving suit by Frank Crilly, professional diver, and she was hauled up much to her surprise and chagrin.

The trans-Atlantic flier and Mrs. George Palmer Putnam wife of the New York publisher, also tried out yesterday a rescue device with which the Defender is fitted. Clad in bathing suits, they emerged from an air-pressure chamber in the forward part of the submerged vessel and came to the surface.

VIKING ADMIRAL QUILTS SEA JAUNT IN 16-FOOT BOAT

Halifax, N. S., July 24.—(AP)—Dave put bravely out of Boston harbor on Turner, 23-year-old Norwegian, who July 4 on what was to have been a trans-Atlantic jaunt to Havre, France, in a 16-foot open boat, has given up the adventure for less romantic but safer forms of navigation.

His second-hand government boat, broken down when the craft reached Jeddore, near here, and Turner announced he had had enough. He abandoned the battered boat which he had named the Elsie Mackay in honor of one of the women who lost their lives in attempting the westward trans-Atlantic flight, and was taken aboard a government ship to this port as a "distressed seaman."

Soon after his arrival here he signed as a hand aboard the Lumberberg lumber schooner Maid of France.

GAS TAX IS RULED DEDUCTIBLE FROM INCOME BY BUREAU

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—The internal revenue bureau ruled today that the four cents per gallon motor-fuel tax imposed by the state of North Carolina is deductible in the income tax returns of the consumers who pay the tax and to whom it is not refunded.

The bureau, which made the ruling upon request, also held that if the tax is made as part of the business expense of such consumers it cannot be deducted separately as a tax.

J. A. CAIN, CIVIL WAR VETERAN, DIES AT 83

Lawrenceville, Ga., July 24.—(Special).—Joseph Anslum Cain, 83, veteran of many important engagements of the Civil War and a pioneer citizen of Bartow county, died at his home near Lawrenceville at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon following an extended illness.

Death was not unexpected because of his long illness, and advanced age. He was one of the best known citizens of this section, being familiarly known as "Uncle Ansel," having for the major portion of his life been a mechanical expert on sawmill and gin machinery.

He was a member of one of the oldest families of north Georgia, being born and reared on practically the same spot where his death occurred. Sixty-four years ago he married Sarah Elizabeth Duncan, who came from one of the most prominent social families and pioneers of the district.

He was a member of Sardis Methodist church, a Mason and Odd Fellow. During the Civil War he served on the gray side and among the notable engagements in which he participated was the memorable battle of Peachtree creek in defense of Atlanta. He was wounded twice in this battle.

In the reconstruction days he was member of the original Ku Klux Klan, which is now regarded as a tradition of that period.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Cain; two daughters, Mrs. J. M. Green, of Flowery Branch, and Mrs. J. M. Tuggle, of Atlanta; a son, Baxter F. Cain, who resided at the family home with his father; two sisters, Mrs. Jasper Prater, of Beaumont, Texas, and Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, of Atlanta; several nieces and nephews and about 30 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Mr. Cain, because of his wide connections and long life of service for the best interests of the state and his friends, is mourned by thousands of Georgians who were sorrowed by the news of his death.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed Wednesday and will be announced later.

BILL TO REDUCE WAYCROSS CITY LIMITS IS FOUGHT

Waycross, Ga., July 24.—(Special).—By a unanimous vote the Lions Club of Waycross today registered a protest against the bill of the two representatives in the state legislature to cut out of the city limits a large section of the city.

The Lions Club took the position that this should be left solely to the people living in the territory to be cut off. This was a matter of vital interest not only to all the citizens of Waycross but to the creditors of the city, particularly the bondholders.

HYDE TO INSPECT FLY REGIONS IN FLORIDA

Regulations of Shipping Will Be Announced at Meeting Friday Night.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Secretary Hyde, Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chief of the plant quarantine administration, and W. G. Campbell, director of regulatory work, will arrive in Orlando, Fla., Friday morning to announce new fruit fly regulations and to make a two-day inspection of the citrus fields.

The regulations will be announced at a public meeting at Winter Haven Friday night.

Secretary Hyde will spend Friday and Saturday in Florida en route to Baton Rouge, La., where he will address the convention of the Institute of Co-operation. Arriving in Orlando Friday morning, he will devote a part of the day looking over the government's fruit fly research laboratory and equipment. After luncheon he will make a general survey about Orlando with state officials. His party will proceed to Winter Haven in the afternoon to inspect the situation there.

The party probably will return to Orlando Friday night. Saturday will be spent in inspections between Orlando and Jacksonville. The secretary will catch the train at Jacksonville for Baton Rouge.

3 YOUTHS HELD FOR AN ATTACK ON GIRL TEACHER

Monticello, Ky., July 24.—(AP)—Judge R. C. Tarter, of Somerset, today called a special grand jury for August 12 to investigate the attack on the 19-year-old girl teacher of the Slick Rock rural school.

Examining trial of Blueford Abbott, charged with criminal assault, and his cousins, Roscoe Abbott, and Ted Abbott, all held in the county jail here in connection with the crime, was set for Monday before County Judge Hobart Roberts. County Attorney J. M. Kennedy said the teacher accused Blueford Abbott of the attack.

MAN BADLY BURNED Cox Scalded as Steam Hose Bursts in Mill.

W. L. Cox, 35, of 501 Dunlap street, East Point, foreman of the boiler room at the Atlanta Milling Company, was severely burned about the right side late Wednesday afternoon as he was inspecting a loose connection. The steam hose burst, scalding him, and he was taken to Grady hospital where he was treated and allowed to go home.

WICKERSHAM PLANS SECOND STATEMENT

Amplification of Letter to Governors Is Promised in Fall.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Chairman George W. Wickersham, of the Hoover law enforcement commission, indicated today that he would amplify, probably in the fall, statements in his letter read before the conference of governors at New London, Conn., last week on prohibition law enforcement. Although saying he "had nothing to add at this time" to the letter in which he suggested closer co-operation of state and federal officers on dry law enforcement, the chairman intimated that he might clarify any question as to his meaning when the commission reassembled here September 4.

The commission concluded a three-day inquiry into the immigration laws, problems of federal penal institutions, probation and parole of prisoners. The witnesses at today's secret session were W. W. Hushand, assistant secretary of labor; George W. Harris, assistant commissioner-general of immigration; and Sanford Bates, superintendent of federal prisons.

NEW YORK SLAYING LAID TO TALL NEGRO

Police Seek Murderer of Bronx Woman — Suicide
First Believed.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—A tall negro was sought by the police today as the slayer of Mrs. Catherine Kirchoff, 55, who was found strangled last night in the bath tub of her Bronx home.

Fully clothed, even to her hat, the body of the woman with a double strand of rope wound five times around her neck was found by her husband upon his return from work.

The police declined to reveal the basis for connecting the negro with her death, but a description of the man was broadcast this morning to all police precincts. They said robbery was the motive for the crime and listed two watches and two rings as stolen.

ARK. SCHOOL HEAD TAKES PRESIDENCY OF STATE COLLEGE

Little Rock, Ark., July 24.—(AP)—J. P. Womack resigned as state superintendent of public instruction today to accept the presidency of the new Henderson State Teachers college at Arkadelphia, to which he was elected by the board of trustees last Saturday. Governor Parnell immediately appointed C. M. Hirst, director of the school plant division of the education department, to serve out Mr. Womack's unexpired term of nearly 18 months.

Mr. Womack formally announced his acceptance of the college presidency before the Rotary Club at Arkadelphia at noon today. Before going to Arkadelphia he left his resignation with a friend to be presented to the governor during the morning.

He went to Arkadelphia to inspect the school property. The board of trustees at the time of his election gave him until next Friday to reach a decision.

Mr. Womack will assume his new duties immediately and begin organization of a faculty for the school term beginning in the fall. He was serving his second term as state superintendent.

Thousands Greet Air Pioneers in Georgia Cities

The above photographs, taken on the All-Georgia air tour being sponsored by The Constitution, show groups of people in three of the cities so far visited where thousands turned out to greet the planes. The large photograph above shows the welcoming crowd at Albany, Ga., the first night the tour party made short address.

At Valdosta, the Chamber of Commerce representatives were on the beautiful airport which this city may well boast of as Beeler. Beeler dropped down to a three-point landing.

Major Luke Christopher and Captain A. B. McDaniel followed soon after and "Miss Constitution," with Doug Davis at the controls, was third on the line. The balance of the squadron soon had taken position and the entire party was motored in to the Hotel Daniel Ashley for luncheon as guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

At Brunswick, where the airport will be dedicated by the tour party and the citizens of the city, then to Louisville and Augusta, Athens, Jefferson and Gainesville, the night control.

Cities to be circled by the aerial fleet are Alma, Waynesboro, Blundale, Washington and Commerce, Governor Hardman's home.

The schedule for today and Friday, the final two days of the tour, is as follows:

CRISP CONTRACTS TO SELL POWER TO UTILITY GROUP

Cordele, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—The power commissioners of Crisp county have closed a contract for the delivery of current from the publicly owned Crisp county hydro-electric plant on Flint river to the Public Utilities Southern Corporation, operating in south Georgia, which will run from $20,000 to $50,000 a year for a period of 10 years.

The construction of a power line from Moultrie to the Flint river dam is to begin at once, the buyers of the current will do the building. This block, together with consumption in Cordele, will provide an income which will practically meet all expenses of operation for a period of 10 years, including retirement of bonds and interest. Power sold to present will amount to about one-seventh of the available supply. The plant will begin operation in December.

The city of Cordele is designing and building its own distribution system, including a modern white way layout for the entire city, and will be ready to deliver current at a low price when the plant begins operation.

BANKER'S KIDNAP TALE TO BE PROBED

Impairment of Capital to Extent of $300,000 Stirrs N. J. City.

Passaic, N. J., July 24.—(AP)—The Hobart Trust Company, a bank beset by many difficulties during the past year, was closed with its two branches, the Service Trust Company and the Merchants bank, today by the state department of banking and insurance.

Frank H. Smith, commissioner of the banking department, ordered the suspension of the bank's activities upon the discovery of an impairment of capital to the extent of $300,000.

"The situation is chaotic," Smith said. "The department will proceed to collect and start paying off depositors as soon as possible."

Word of the closing of the three banks spread rapidly through this textile area and crowds of depositors, most of them of foreign extraction, soon were clamoring at the doors of the institution. The Passaic clearing house issued a statement expressing the belief the depositors would suffer no losses.

The directorate of the New Jersey Bankers' Securities Company, holding concern which controls the three institutions, convened in Jersey City after a hastily called meeting this evening to consider the situation. United States Senator Edward I. Edwards is head of the holding company, along with the Hobart Trust Company.

The county grand jury has been called for a special session Friday to investigate among other things the connection of the kidnapping of Willard H. Elliott, former vice president and treasurer of the Hobart Trust Company, with the affairs of the bank.

Elliott disappeared four weeks ago today. He reappeared six days later with a harrowing story of having been abducted by a pair of Chicago gunmen and held prisoner in a house not far from Passaic. He was convinced his connection with the bank was the cause of the kidnapping. He told authorities he believed some one found it necessary to get him "out of the way" for six days.

Elliott's experience resulted in a nervous breakdown and he submitted his resignation to the bank, attacking its officials as "heartless" for their lack of interest in his abduction.

BERLIN EXPERIENCES WORST FIRE IN YEARS

Berlin, July 24.—(AP)—Fifty Berlin fire companies tonight brought under control after five and a half hours of fighting one of the worst fires and explosions that the German capital has known in years.

The entire industrial suburb of Borsigwalde was thrown into panic by a series of terrific explosions in the United Oxygen Works, which began at noon and lasted two hours. Fire broke out after the first explosion.

The detonations could be heard as far as the center of Berlin and brought thousands of workers running from factories and homes in fright to the scene.

Flying fragments of oxygen containers caused damage within a wide radius of the oxygen works. Clouds of smoke enveloped the whole nearby suburban section and spread to the Linder Artificial Ice Company.

At least two workmen were believed to have perished in the explosion, 12 were known to be injured and others have been rushed by ambulances to Berlin hospitals. At an early hour tonight it was impossible to make an exact check of casualties.

The United Oxygen Works and the Linder ice plant were completely destroyed by the fire and the explosions.

According to one workman's story, the first explosion occurred when a tank filled with acetylene burst as it was being carried from a workshop in the United works.

It was also said a big steel container had fallen over while it was being re-filled, its contents coming into contact with fire. A 300-foot flame blew out of the container, explosions followed from other steel containers.

No coherent account of the disaster was obtainable early in the evening. Police drew a cordon around the danger zone in the afternoon to keep out thousands of spectators. Telephone communication with Berlin was cut off.

When the firemen got the flames under control this evening, danger to nearby factories, including the American General Motors, was checked. Many of the factories, however, had their walls cracked as though by an earthquake.

DIVORCE GRANTED WEALTHY NEW YORK
GELATINE KING

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Orator Francis Woodward, millionaire manufacturer of gelatine food products, has obtained a divorce from his wife, Mrs. Persis Davis Woodward, Mr. Woodward's attorneys have announced.

In confirming the divorce, Mrs. Woodward revealed that the divorce was granted in Nogales, Mexico. Under the terms of the decree Mr. and Mrs. Woodward will share the custody of their two children, Ruth, 12 years old, and Orator, Jr., 9.

The estrangement of the Woodwards was first brought to public notice in January, when Mr. Woodward "kidnaped" the two children who had been living with their mother in Paris. He secretly hurried them aboard a liner bound for New York but before the liner reached America Mrs. Woodward's mother, Mrs. Mary A. Davis, of Fall River, Mass. obtained a writ of habeas corpus directing that the children be returned to their mother.

Under a financial agreement, arranged in March, Mr. Woodward settled more than $1,000,000 upon his wife and created trust funds of $750,000 for each of the two children. The Woodwards were married in 1909 and lived together until 1920.

MRS. JACK KEARNS THREATENS SUIT FOR RAID ON HOME

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Jack Kearns was quoted in newspapers today as threatening court action over a raid on her apartment yesterday by four men.

Mrs. Kearns, who is estranged from her husband, Jack Dempsey's former manager, said the raiders were probably seeking evidence upon which Kearns might avoid further payment of alimony. She obtained a separation five years ago.

She said one of the men was Teddy Hayes, Dempsey's former secretary and now a confidant of Kearns. She said another was a private detective. She declared all they obtained was a pair of men's socks which had been left there by her brother-in-law.

Rains in Tobacco Region Slow Deliveries of Weed On Second Day of Sales Market at Vidalia Is Reduced to 82,000 Pounds by Heavy Rains During Night.

Waycross, Ga., July 24.—(P)—Rains in spots over the tobacco belt today slowed up deliveries and cut down the amount of weed available for offerings, but in other sections the same briskness that marked the opening yesterday was apparent, with prices maintaining the steady level of the opening day.

Offerings at Vidalia were limited to 82,000 pounds due to heavy rains during the night, with an average of about $17.50 per hundred recorded. Experts said growers in this section of the belt have not had sufficient time to properly cure the weed and some of it was off color, which they said accounted for the drop in the average from yesterday. Well cured leaf and lugs brought $20 per hundred and over today.

Valdosta floors were estimated to have more than 450,000 pounds on them today, with slightly better grades being offered. Buyers estimated the average for the day would approximate $21 per hundred, on the basis of early sales and quality available.

Official figures from a number of markets on the opening day sales showed the average prices running from $17 up to $23 per hundred pounds.

Reports.

Some of the reports follow:
Folham sales, 270,738, for $40,964.23, averaging $17.24 per hundred.
Habira sales, 292,997, for average of $20.75 per hundred.
Clinton sales, 106,154, averaging $20.75 per hundred.
Cairo sales, 63,850, averaging $19.38.
Camilla, one warehouse, sales 50,726, averaging $19.64; second warehouse, sales 77,136, averaging $17.34.
Valdosta, sales, 565,000, averaging $18.59.
Douglas, sales, 528,924, averaging $18.03.
Hazlehurst, sales, 237,742, averaging $21.09.
Sales at Hazlehurst were cut yesterday because of rain, but bright sunshine prevailed today and business moved forward rapidly with farmers expressing pleasure at prices received.
J. T. Gray, a grower in the Camilla vicinity, disposed of his entire crop of 11,475 pounds raised on eight acres for $2,000.

550,940 POUNDS SOLD AT TIFTON.

283,796 POUNDS IS MOUTRIE SALE.
Moultrie, Ga., July 24.—(P)—Sales of bright leaf tobacco for the local floors yesterday totaled 283,796 pounds, it was announced today, the sales bringing a total of $62,525.30 for an average of $22.01 per hundred pounds.

NOTED N. Y. SURGEON WEDS TORONTO NURSE

New York, July 24.—(P)—The Daily News says today that Dr. Joseph A. Blake, noted surgeon, has been divorced by the former Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay and has married a nurse named Drake.

The divorce, obtained in New York state, became final in the first week of July, and Dr. Blake's marriage was ten days later.

Dr. Blake, who is 65, is now at Eastbrook, Mass., with his bride, having retired from practice. He said the marriage took place in Toronto, but declined to reveal his third wife's name. It was learned, however, that she was a Miss Drake, a nurse at a Toronto hospital.

Mrs. Mackay, the former Katherine Durr, obtained a divorce in Paris in 1913 from the head of the Postal Telegraph Company, to whom she was married in 1908. She is the mother of Mrs. Irving Berlin. She married Dr. Blake in 1914.

In 1913 Mrs. Mackay was named defendant in a $100,000 suit filed by Mrs. Catherine Ketchum Blake, charging alienation of affections. The suit, however, was withdrawn after the physician paid $200,000 in settlement to his wife in the form of a trust for her and their two children, Joseph A. Blake, Jr. and Francis Hayes Blake. Mrs. Blake then sued for a separation, but before the case came to trial obtained a divorce in Connecticut.

Both Dr. Blake and Mrs. Mackay then were in Paris and upon receipt of word of Mrs. Blake's divorce were married. On July 22 the second Mrs. Blake took a separate apartment in New York.

During the family dissension that followed Ellen Mackay's marriage to Irving Berlin, Mrs. Blake took sides with her daughter against her former husband, and Mrs. Berlin resided for a time with the Blake family. The former Mrs. Mackay had three children by her first marriage and three by her marriage to Dr. Blake.

ADAIRSVILLE HOST TO A. M. E. CONVENTION

Adairsville, Ga., July 24.—(Special)—The Sunday school, Allen Christian Endeavor League and Christian Workers' Institute convention of the Marietta district of the A. M. E. church convened in annual session in Grays Chapel church here today. Dr. J. A. Hadley, elder of the district, is presiding over the sessions.

The following were elected to office: Secretaries, Susie Shaw, Frances Williams; marshals, Sam Shaw, James Mims, W. M. Craig, H. R. McCullough; reporters for church periodicals, Della Ellis, L. Gartrell, I. Hargrove. Dr. J. A. Hadley was elected circular daily reporter.

The noon sermon was preached by Rev. J. T. Adams, of Fairfield. Dr. W. R. Moore, of Cartersville, addressed the convention, pledging support to the convention.

Rev. L. J. Hamilton, pastor, and his officers are handling the large delegation here with ease. Bishop W. A. Fountain, Episcopal head of the A. M. E. denomination in Georgia, and Dr. A. J. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., are expected here Friday.

TWO BANKS CLOSE ON WITHDRAWALS IN FLA. CITIES

Jacksonville, Fla., July 24.—(P)—The First National Bank of St. Augustine and the Phifer State Bank of Gainesville, having aggregate deposits of more than $3,000,000, were closed today because of excessive withdrawals and for the protection of depositors.

The St. Augustine institution had total deposits of $2,122,588.92, a capital stock of $130,000 and surplus of $70,000. Excessive withdrawals caused the closing President J. D. Puller said.

The Phifer State bank had deposits of $1,176,192.39, and was closed "to protect depositors," President H. L. Phifer said in a statement.

Four other St. Augustine banks withstood light runs, while a slight run was made on the First National Bank of Gainesville, which remained open until 5 o'clock paying depositors. Officials of the latter institution said plenty of cash was available to meet withdrawals.

CHARLES CHAMBERS RITES TO BE HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Services for Charles M. Chambers, 28, former resident of Atlanta, who died in Miami, Fla., Monday, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of Ed Bond and Condon Company, Rev. Robert Ivey officiating. Burial will be in West View cemetery.

Mr. Chambers lived in Atlanta until about two years ago when he moved to Miami, where he was connected with the Gulf Refining Company. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Miss Anna Chambers; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Chandler; five sisters, Mrs. J. P. Adams, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Dent, Mrs. J. A. Roberts, Mrs. A. H. Watson and Mrs. Tom Naylor; four brothers, J. V., Jr., J. M., Dorin and W. J. Chambers.

DUNCAN IS NAMED FLORIDA HIGHWAY CHIEF ENGINEER

Tallahassee, Fla., July 24.—(P)—R. M. Duncan, of Miami, today was appointed chief highway engineer of Florida, succeeding J. L. Cresap, resigned. He will assume office on September 1, the date Mr. Cresap's resignation becomes effective.

The resignation of Cresap and the appointment of Duncan came at the second day's session of the quarterly meeting of the state road department. Cresap did not make public his reason for leaving office and his only statement was that he had no plans for the future.

Duncan formerly was city engineer of Miami and is an outstanding figure in the engineering profession in Florida.

Chicago, July 24.—(P)—The Herald and Examiner said today it understood that Edith Mason, prima donna of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, and Giorgio Polacco, musical director of the same company, who were divorced Saturday, had reached "or nearly reached," a reconciliation.

The newspaper quoted Miss Mason as saying concerning the rumor: "It is quite true that Mr. Polacco and I had a pleasant day and evening together Monday. In the afternoon we were in the office of Samuel Insull, attending to business matters. In the evening we were guests of friends in Highland Park and later attended the opera at Ravinia. There is no reason why we should not continue to be good friends."

Richard B. Russell, Jr., speaker of the Georgia house of representatives, will deliver a brief address Thursday at the weekly meeting of the City Club of Atlanta. The meeting will be held in the Pine Room of the Ansley hotel at 12:30 o'clock.

Prevailing weather conditions are proving so popular that C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, has ordered up another helping of the same for Atlanta today. His official forecast calls for practically no change in any direction.

"It will be mostly clear," he stated Wednesday afternoon, "with only a few clouds drifting around without bringing on any rain."

The temperature range Wednesday was from 70 to 85, and exactly the same figures are expected to be registered again today.

THREE FIREMEN HURT WHEN TRUCK IS OVERTURNED

Chicago, July 24.—(P)—Three firemen were injured perhaps fatally and two others were less seriously hurt early today when a fire truck, racing to a fire, overturned while trying to avoid a collision with another fire truck.

The fire swept through a four-story furniture building, causing damage estimated at $50,000.

Birmingham Excursion Saturday, Aug. 3rd, SEABOARD, $3.50 round trip. Coaches and sleepers. Call WA. 5018.

Some of the reports follow:
Folham sales, 270,738, for $40,964.23, averaging $17.24 per hundred.
Habira sales, 292,997, for average of $20.75 per hundred.
Clinton sales, 106,154, averaging $20.75 per hundred.
Cairo sales, 63,850, averaging $19.38.
Camilla, one warehouse, sales 50,726, averaging $19.64; second warehouse, sales 77,136, averaging $17.34.
Valdosta, sales, 565,000, averaging $18.59.
Douglas, sales, 528,924, averaging $18.03.
Hazlehurst, sales, 237,742, averaging $21.09.
Sales at Hazlehurst were cut yesterday because of rain, but bright sunshine prevailed today and business moved forward rapidly with farmers expressing pleasure at prices received.
J. T. Gray, a grower in the Camilla vicinity, disposed of his entire crop of 11,475 pounds raised on eight acres for $2,000.

Both growers and warehousemen declared yesterday's opening the most auspicious in the history of the industry here. Sales were conducted at only one warehouse, due to the amount of weed on hand.

New York, July 24.—(P)—The Daily News says today that Dr. Joseph A. Blake, noted surgeon, has been divorced by the former Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay and has married a nurse named Drake.

The divorce, obtained in New York state, became final in the first week of July, and Dr. Blake's marriage was ten days later.

Dr. Blake, who is 65, is now at Eastbrook, Mass., with his bride, having retired from practice. He said the marriage took place in Toronto, but declined to reveal his third wife's name. It was learned, however, that she was a Miss Drake, a nurse at a Toronto hospital.

Mrs. Mackay, the former Katherine Durr, obtained a divorce in Paris in 1913 from the head of the Postal Telegraph Company, to whom she was married in 1908. She is the mother of Mrs. Irving Berlin. She married Dr. Blake in 1914.

In 1913 Mrs. Mackay was named defendant in a $100,000 suit filed by Mrs. Catherine Ketchum Blake, charging alienation of affections. The suit, however, was withdrawn after the physician paid $200,000 in settlement to his wife in the form of a trust for her and their two children, Joseph A. Blake, Jr. and Francis Hayes Blake. Mrs. Blake then sued for a separation, but before the case came to trial obtained a divorce in Connecticut.

Both Dr. Blake and Mrs. Mackay then were in Paris and upon receipt of word of Mrs. Blake's divorce were married. On July 22 the second Mrs. Blake took a separate apartment in New York.

During the family dissension that followed Ellen Mackay's marriage to Irving Berlin, Mrs. Blake took sides with her daughter against her former husband, and Mrs. Berlin resided for a time with the Blake family. The former Mrs. Mackay had three children by her first marriage and three by her marriage to Dr. Blake.

Adairsville, Ga., July 24.—(Special)—The Sunday school, Allen Christian Endeavor League and Christian Workers' Institute convention of the Marietta district of the A. M. E. church convened in annual session in Grays Chapel church here today. Dr. J. A. Hadley, elder of the district, is presiding over the sessions.

The following were elected to office: Secretaries, Susie Shaw, Frances Williams; marshals, Sam Shaw, James Mims, W. M. Craig, H. R. McCullough; reporters for church periodicals, Della Ellis, L. Gartrell, I. Hargrove. Dr. J. A. Hadley was elected circular daily reporter.

The noon sermon was preached by Rev. J. T. Adams, of Fairfield. Dr. W. R. Moore, of Cartersville, addressed the convention, pledging support to the convention.

Rev. L. J. Hamilton, pastor, and his officers are handling the large delegation here with ease. Bishop W. A. Fountain, Episcopal head of the A. M. E. denomination in Georgia, and Dr. A. J. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., are expected here Friday.

TURNIP GROWING TO BE ADOPTED BY MELON GROUP

Valdosta, Ga., July 24.—(Special.) The proposed experiment of growing turnips for market by members of the Sowega Melon Association, to employ its sales force during the off-season, has been given approval by the executive board of the Sowega.

The suggestion for this experiment was made early in the spring by J. J. Parrish, manager of Sowega, and at a recent meeting of the board it was officially presented and approved.

CHICAGO MILWAUKEE ST. PAUL PACIFIC

OVER four mountain ranges, including the Rockies, Bitter Roots and Cascades by daylight, powerful electric locomotives furnish the motive power for the Queen of the Luxe trains. Wonderfully clean, sootless, cinderless this electrified travel, permitting operation of open observation cars in summertime.

The Milwaukee Road is the only transcontinental line having important electrified main line mileage. Its 656 miles constitute approximately forty per cent of the Nation's electrified mileage—by far America's longest electrified railroad.

Faster now—a business day saved over the shortest route between Chicago and Seattle or Tacoma. Luxuriously equipped—observation and club cars, ladies' lounge, radio, bath, coil spring mattresses, barber and valet, maid and manicure, library, soda fountain. Text of Hoover Speech On Renunciation of War

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—President Hoover, in proclaiming the bringing into force today of the Kellogg-Briand treaty for the renunciation of war, said:

"In April, 1928, as a result of discussions between our secretary of state and the ministers of foreign affairs of France, the president directed Secretary Kellogg to propose to the nations of the world that they should enter into a binding agreement as follows:

"Article 1. The high contracting parties solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international controversies, and renounce it as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.

"Article 2. The high contracting parties agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by peaceful means.

"That was a proposal to the conscience and idealism of civilized nations. It suggested a new step in international law, rich with meaning and pregnant with new ideas in the conduct of world relations. It represented a platform from which there is instant appeal to the public opinion of the world as to specific acts and deeds.

"Fifteen Signatory Nations. The magnificent response of the world to these proposals is well indicated by these now signatory to its provisions. Under the terms of the treaty there have been deposited in Washington the ratifications of the 15 signatory nations—that is, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, Germany, Great Britain, India, Irish Free State, Italy, Japan, New Zealand, Poland, Union of South Africa and the United States of America.

"Beyond this the treaty has today become effective also with respect to 31 other countries, the governments of which have deposited with the United States instruments evidencing their definite adherence to the treaty. These countries are: Afghanistan, Albania, Austria, Bulgaria, China, Cuba, Denmark, Dominican Republic, Egypt, Estonia, Ethiopia, Finland, Guatemala, Hungary, Iceland, Latvia, Liberia, Lithuania, the Netherlands, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Portugal, Peru, Rumania, Russia, Kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, Siam, Spain, Sweden and Turkey.

"Moreover, according to information received through the diplomatic channels of Greece, Honduras, Persia, Switzerland and Venezuela, has been fully completed according to their constitutional methods and are now on the way to Washington for deposit.

"I congratulate this assembly, the states it represents and indeed the entire world upon the coming into force of this additional instrument of humane endeavor to do away with war as an instrument of national policy and to obtain by peaceful means alone the settlement of international disputes.

"I am glad of this opportunity to pay tribute to the two statesmen whose names the world has properly adopted in its designation of this treaty. To Aristide Briand, minister of foreign affairs of France, and to his zeal is due a very large share of the success which attended the subsequent negotiations. To Frank B. Kellogg, then secretary of state of the United States, we owe its expansion to the proportions of a treaty open to the entire world and destined, as I most confidently hope, shortly to include among its parties every country of the world.

"Mr. Stimson has sent forward today a message of felicitation to Mr. Briand and to the people of France for whom he speaks. I am happy, Mr. Kellogg, to extend to you and to the people of the United States with such untiring devotion to the cause of peace and justice, the presence of President Coolidge and whose administration this great step in world peace was initiated. Under his authority and with his courageous support, you, Mr. Kellogg, succeeded in this great service. And I wish to mark also the high appreciation of national policy and that the solution of disputes among parties shall never be sought except by peaceful means, was concluded and signed by the United States and the citizens thereof.

"Whereas a treaty between the president of the United States of America, the president of the German Reich, his majesty the king of the Belgians, the president of the French republic, his majesty the king of Great Britain, Ireland and the British dominions beyond the seas, the emperor of India, his majesty the emperor of Japan, the president of the republic of Poland, and the president of the Czechoslovak republic, providing for the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy and that the solution of disputes among parties shall never be sought except by peaceful means, was concluded and signed by the United States and the citizens thereof, on August 27, 1928.

"And whereas it is stipulated in the said treaty that it take effect as between the high contracting parties as soon as all the several instruments of ratification shall have been deposited at Washington.

"And whereas the said treaty has been duly ratified on the parts of all the high contracting parties and their several instruments of ratification have been deposited with the government of the United States of America, the last on July 24, 1928:

"Now, therefore, be it known that I, Herbert Hoover, president of the United States of America, have caused the said treaty to be made public to the end that the same and every article and clause thereof may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof.

"In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

"Done in the city of Washington, this twenty-fourth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight and of the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and fifty-fourth."

ment navy yards, the detailed drawings for which are now in course of preparation. The actual keels would, in the ordinary course, be laid some time this fall.

"Generally speaking, the British cruiser strength considerably exceeds the actual construction of three cruisers would not be likely in themselves to produce inequality in the final result.

"We do not wish, however, to have any misunderstanding of our actions and therefore we shall not lay these keels until there has been an opportunity for full consideration of their effect upon the final agreement for parity which we expect to reach, although our hopes of relief from construction lie more largely in the latter years of the program under the law of 1922."

By the law of 1928 Mr. Hoover referred to the act providing 15 new cruisers and one aircraft carrier, to be laid down over a period of three years. This program will cost $274,500,000. Three of the cruisers to be laid down this year will be built in government yards and two in private shipyards. President Hoover has no power to hold up building by private Americans unless an agreement for further arms limitation is signed.

Plans already have been drawn for the three cruisers to be built at government yards and the contracts awarded to navy yards at Puget Sound, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Would Cost Billion. A few weeks ago Secretary of State Stimson made public figures prepared by the budget bureau showing that the naval program provided for the next year would cost $274,500,000. This announcement, ostensibly addressed to the navy, was a general move for disarmament culminating in President Hoover's statement today.

President Hoover's welcome to Macdonald is regarded as assuring the British premier's visit this fall. He said himself in the house of commons that he expected to come here in October. American Ambassador Dawes has assured Macdonald that he would be welcome here and the open expression today from Hoover will make the visit certain.

The simultaneous announcements today from Macdonald and President Hoover were seen as the result of negotiations carried on by Dawes and Macdonald in the days before the signing of the treaty.

Denoting the importance of the occasion the ceremony was conducted, however, with utmost dignity and formality. The noise and confusion created at the south end of the east wing by the frantic activity of 30 photographers and the announcers of two national broadcasting systems were ignored by the statesmen, as Macdonald pointed out today. They are the two principal sea powers. It was a difference between these two that disrupted the Geneva conference of 1926, called by President Coolidge.

Accepts Parity Principle. Macdonald's acceptance of the principle of parity was the outstanding point in his speech today, as President Hoover pointed out in his statement. The United States has always insisted that she must have a navy equal to that of Great Britain.

A general conference might not necessarily follow very closely upon an agreement between the United States and Great Britain over their points of difference. Under the Washington arms treaties, a conference is to be held in 1931 to consider revision of the limitation treaty made at that time. The other nations might follow an agreement between the United States and Great Britain by general declaration for reductions, perhaps also by suspension of building program, the actual steps to await the 1931 conference.

Felicitations today were exchanged among the governments of the United States and the other leading signatories on the final consummation of the treaty.

The proclamation ceremony at the White House, the most colorful and impressive seen in Washington in years, reflected the cordial international atmosphere in which the treaty was negotiated and signed. Attended by the representatives of three times as many nations as signed at Paris last August, it demonstrated the extent to which the treaty's spirit has been adopted by the world.

President Hoover has no power to hold up building by private Americans unless an agreement for further arms limitation is signed.

Plans already have been drawn for the three cruisers to be built at government yards and the contracts awarded to navy yards at Puget Sound, Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Would Cost Billion. A few weeks ago Secretary of State Stimson made public figures prepared by the budget bureau showing that the naval program provided for the next year would cost $274,500,000. This announcement, ostensibly addressed to the navy, was a general move for disarmament culminating in President Hoover's statement today.

President Hoover's welcome to Macdonald is regarded as assuring the British premier's visit this fall. He said himself in the house of commons that he expected to come here in October. American Ambassador Dawes has assured Macdonald that he would be welcome here and the open expression today from Hoover will make the visit certain.

The simultaneous announcements today from Macdonald and President Hoover were seen as the result of negotiations carried on by Dawes and Macdonald in the days before the signing of the treaty.

Denoting the importance of the occasion the ceremony was conducted, however, with utmost dignity and formality. The noise and confusion created at the south end of the east wing by the frantic activity of 30 photographers and the announcers of two national broadcasting systems were ignored by the statesmen, as Macdonald pointed out today. They are the two principal sea powers. It was a difference between these two that disrupted the Geneva conference of 1926, called by President Coolidge.

Accepts Parity Principle. Macdonald's acceptance of the principle of parity was the outstanding point in his speech today, as President Hoover pointed out in his statement. The United States has always insisted that she must have a navy equal to that of Great Britain.

A general conference might not necessarily follow very closely upon an agreement between the United States and Great Britain over their points of difference. Under the Washington arms treaties, a conference is to be held in 1931 to consider revision of the limitation treaty made at that time. The other nations might follow an agreement between the United States and Great Britain by general declaration for reductions, perhaps also by suspension of building program, the actual steps to await the 1931 conference.

Governor Hardman Will Call Special Election Next Week To Name Steele's Successor

Executive, However, To Delay Order Until After Funeral Is Held for Member of Congress.

A special election to name a successor to Representative Leslie J. Steele, who died early Wednesday in Washington, probably will be called by Governor L. G. Hardman early next week, it was indicated Wednesday afternoon when the governor made it known that he would not issue the call until after the funeral of Congressman Steele.

Because of the urgency for the presence of the full Georgia delegation in the house when it is called upon to give final consideration to the tariff bill, it is expected that Governor Hardman will set the special election date within 30 days of the issuance of his call for the balloting.

Call for Election.
The federal constitution provides that "when vacancies happen in the representation of any state the executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies."

No time limit is fixed for the calling of the election by the governor, but it was expected Wednesday that Governor Hardman, bearing in mind the urgency of action on the tariff bill, would not delay the issuance of his proclamation. The house already has disposed of preliminary work on the tariff bill, which is being worked over now by the senate. Congress is to reconvene August 19, when the bill will be put before the senate. The house is expected to adjourn for three days at a time until the senate has finished its work on the tariff, but be ready for action on it when it is finished. This probably will be some time about the middle of September or the first of October, so that the governor has ample time to call the election and assure a full Georgia delegation vote on the final disposition of the tariff measure.

Resolutions of Regret.

Resolutions expressing regret at the death of Congressman Leslie J. Steele and praising him for his high character and unwavering devotion to duty were adopted in both houses of the Georgia legislature Wednesday while similar expressions were forthcoming from high officials of the state, county, and city government as well as private citizens.

Senator William J. Harris, Governor Hardman, Mayor Ragsdale, Philip Abston, president of the Chamber of Commerce and many others all joined in paying tribute while preparations were going forward to have the body returned to Decatur for burial.

The resolution adopted by the house of representatives praised Congressman Steele for his services in the various offices which he held, declaring that his actions had always been marked with "a high devotion to duty, unswerving fidelity to his people and scrupulous adherence to the highest principles of public trust."

House Resolution.
In conclusion it was resolved by the house of representatives that "we mourn the loss of so distinguished a public servant and that we express to his family and to his immediate constituency our sorrow at his passing and our admiration for his exemplary career in public affairs."

Senator Harris declared that he was "inexpressibly shocked and saddened" at the news of the death of Congressman Steele's death while a statement from Governor Hardman declared that "in his untimely death the state and nation loses an honored and distinguished citizen and a leader in public life, and thousands of Georgians lose a loyal and personal friend."

MORROW AND SIMPSON PLEAS FOR LIFE HEARD

An effort toward having the prison commission recommend commutation of the death sentences of Malcolm Morrow and Homer Simpson, slayers of C. A. Perry, Kingsland bank cashier, was begun at a hearing before the commission here Wednesday.

Wednesday's hearing was on Morrow's petition, one on Simpson's plea for clemency being scheduled for tomorrow. The commission will announce its conclusions later, it was said by Chairman E. L. Rainey.

The evidence presented at the trial, which was in Glynn county superior court, tended to show that the two men attacked the cashier on a highway in Camden county between Kingsland and the Florida state line, when he had gone with them to show some real estate they told him they wanted to buy. Simpson and Morrow, the record of the case said, then took Perry, who was wounded seriously, back to Kingsland to his bank and forced him to open the vault. The wounded man was taken back out on the highway and put out of the automobile at a point about 12 miles from Jacksonville. Perry was found by passers-by and taken to a Jacksonville hospital, where he died.

The case first came to trial in Camden county, but the venue was later changed to Glynn. Morrow and Simpson were given a respite by the governor recently to permit them to prepare their petitions to the commission and the date of execution has not been reset.

SOUTH GATE CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL OUTING TONIGHT

The South Gate Club, composed of Master Masons in the employ of the Southern railway, will hold its annual watermelon-cutting and dance at 7 o'clock tonight at the main pavilion and Grant park. An attendance of 700 or more is expected at the social occasion, for which 100 large watermelons have been secured.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Southern Railway orchestra. Only members of the club and their families have been invited.

MERRITT FACES DOOM

Attacker To Get Sentence Friday Morning.

Alvin E. Merritt, convicted of criminal assault, will be re-sentenced to death Friday morning. Solicitor-General John A. Boykin announced Wednesday on receipt of the remittitur from the state supreme court affirming the conviction, Merritt's trial and conviction followed a reign of terror in the Highland avenue section, when a series of attacks upon women resulted in the placing of extra policemen in that vicinity.

DAMAGE SUIT FILED IN THREKELD DEATH

Suit for $10,000 damages for the death of John J. Threkeld, 33, who was fatally injured by a train at the Hurt street crossing of the Georgia railroad on January 18, was filed Wednesday in city court of Atlanta by children of Threkeld.

The plaintiffs are Hugh L. Earl, C. H. W. V. J. G. R. and F. M. Threkeld and Mrs. W. W. Whidby, children of the deceased, and the defendants named in the petition are the Atlanta & West Point railroad, the Louisville & Nashville railroad and the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, as lessees and operators of the Georgia railroad. The petition, filed by the law firm of Sims & Bernum, alleges that the train was late and was attempting to make up lost time when it hit Threkeld.

COMMUNITY CHEST FORCED TO MAKE LOAN OF $10,000

Disbursements by the Atlanta Community Chest during the month of June totaled $17,423.36, while receipts for the same period were $17,713.27, of which $10,000 had to be borrowed, due to laxity with which pledges are being paid, it was announced here Wednesday. Of the amount disbursed, $14,247.16 went to member organizations, $1,768.94 to the administration of the chest, $882.26 to the expenses of the 1930 campaign, $45 for the purchase of new equipment, and $5 to returned checks. Of the amount received exclusive of the $10,000 which was borrowed, $5,814.27 was paid on 1929 subscriptions, $1,827 on 1928 subscriptions and $31 on 1927 pledges.

HOPES EXPRESSED FOR NATURAL GAS BY FIRST OF YEAR

Hope of serving Atlanta with natural gas by January 1 was expressed Wednesday by R. C. Hoffman, Jr., vice president of the Southern Cities Public Service Corporation, on his return from a meeting of the public service company officials in Birmingham. It is certain that the natural gas supply will be available here by March, Mr. Hoffman said. Mr. Hoffman reported that 129 miles of pipe have already been laid and contracts for the 300 remaining miles will be let soon. Advent of the new gas supply will mean a reduction in fuel costs for both domestic and industrial usage, he said.

At the Stores Named Below---Any Day of This Week

Madam—Please Accept

Packet of this Utterly NEW, Vastly More Gentle and 3 to 5 Times Longer Lasting Hygiene—FREE

AN utterly New-Type, far gentler and immeasurably longer lasting hygienic pad has been developed.

Made of pure Rayon Cellulose—the basis of the remarkable material that has revolutionized the silk industry of the world—it forever banishes all harshness, all chafing from the wearing of a hygienic pad. It is made so it cannot irritate.

To avoid all possible delay in placing it in women's hands, trial packets are given to them free through Department Stores. Note sample depots for this district named below. Just step in—get a packet free.

3 to 5 Times Longer Lasting

Developed under a totally NEW process of material and design it is over 10 times more absorbent than any pad yet discovered.

Because of that high absorption it remains effective 3 to 5 times longer than any other pad ever known.

That is to say, it can be worn in perfect safety and peace of mind 3 to 5 times longer than any other hygienic pad yet discovered. Consider what this means.

A $2,000,000 Development Protected by World-Wide Patents

It comes from the laboratories of one of the largest industrial institutions of the world, an industry with 600 million dollars of invested capital. Thus its scientific importance will be quickly recognized. Over $2,000,000 was spent in developing it by the company in whose laboratories the rayon industry was cradled. Years of scientific effort by leading scientists of Europe and America went in perfecting it. Protected by world-wide patents there is no other pad like it.

Introduced less than 6 weeks ago, over 10,000 women a day on an average are changing to it—discarding less gentle, less efficient ways.

Like Fluffed Silk No More Irritation

Its softness is the caressing softness of silk down, and thus it absolutely banishes chafing... is utterly lacking the harshness women complain of in present sanitary pads.

76% Greater Deodorizing Powers

Due to chemical experiments costing scores of thousands in money by able men of science, both in Europe and America, it deodorizes almost 95% perfectly, having

Naval Disarmament Hinges On Willingness To Overlook Technicality Variances

Point of Agreement Nearly Reached by Both British and U. S. Under MacDonald Announcement.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

Washington, July 24.—The most pregnant point in the dramatic announcement by the premier of Great Britain is that "we have determined that we shall not allow technical points to override great public issues involved in our being able to come to a settlement." Those words meant that Premier MacDonald and President Hoover have the will to agree upon and therefore will agree upon what Mr. Hoover has at various times called a "common denominator" and a "yardstick." That means in turn that Great Britain and the United States will come to an agreement upon parity of naval armament, accompanied by reduction of armament now existing or planned, and accompanied by fixed limitation in the future.

Throughout the recent negotiations between the two governments the yardstick has been the important point. More accurately the will to agree upon a yardstick has been the important point. Granted the most earnest good intentions on both sides, there was and is and will be legitimate and inevitable difficulty in determining parity or equivalence between British cruisers and American cruisers, when those cruisers differ in size, speed, age, range of guns, size of guns, and number of guns.

About all that can be said is that if statesmen and nations have the good will to find a practicable yardstick they probably can. If on the other hand they are animated by a spirit of standing on technical points, agreement can be difficult or even impossible. We now have Mr. MacDonald's assurance that the two governments "have determined that we

FLOOD CONTROL RULING MADE BY MITCHELL

Attorney-General Declares President Cannot Alter the Law.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Attorney-General Mitchell ruled today that President Hoover has no right to alter the plan of Mississippi river flood control in connection with the compensation to land holders in the proposed Bird's Point-New Madrid, Mo., floodway.

The decision of the attorney-general which was made public at the war department by Secretary Good upheld the army engineers' plan to purchase flowage rights on lands which might be inundated in the floodway and to acquire outright either by negotiation or by court condemnation proceedings the land on which the new levee of the floodway would be constructed.

"It is the desire of the administration to act honestly, liberally and promptly to settle the questions involved," Secretary Good declared. "There is no desire to take any advantage of the residents of the district."

The executive order of President Coolidge sets out the basis of these payments; the secretary continued, "and should be studied by every resident of the district. The corps of engineers is establishing an agency in the district prepared to give compensation in cash for flowage rights upon this basis as fast as legal settlements can be made."

"In order, however, that there may be no injustice in the matter, as soon as a reasonable time has elapsed for consideration by each owner of the offer made under President Coolidge's order and as soon as it is determined how much of the flowage rights will be offered by the owner on these terms, then the war department will initiate condemnation proceedings to determine the value of flowage rights of lands not offered under the offer now made."

The attorney-general's opinion does not apply to the acquisition of flowage rights in the Bonnet and Archafala floodways in Arkansas and Louisiana, the secretary said. The plan of securing those rights at present is being held in abeyance by the army engineers, he added.

Citing, in his opinion, sections of the flood control act of 1928 dealing with compensation of property holders in flood areas, the attorney-general said the project is fixed and "is not subject to change, save by future congressional action."

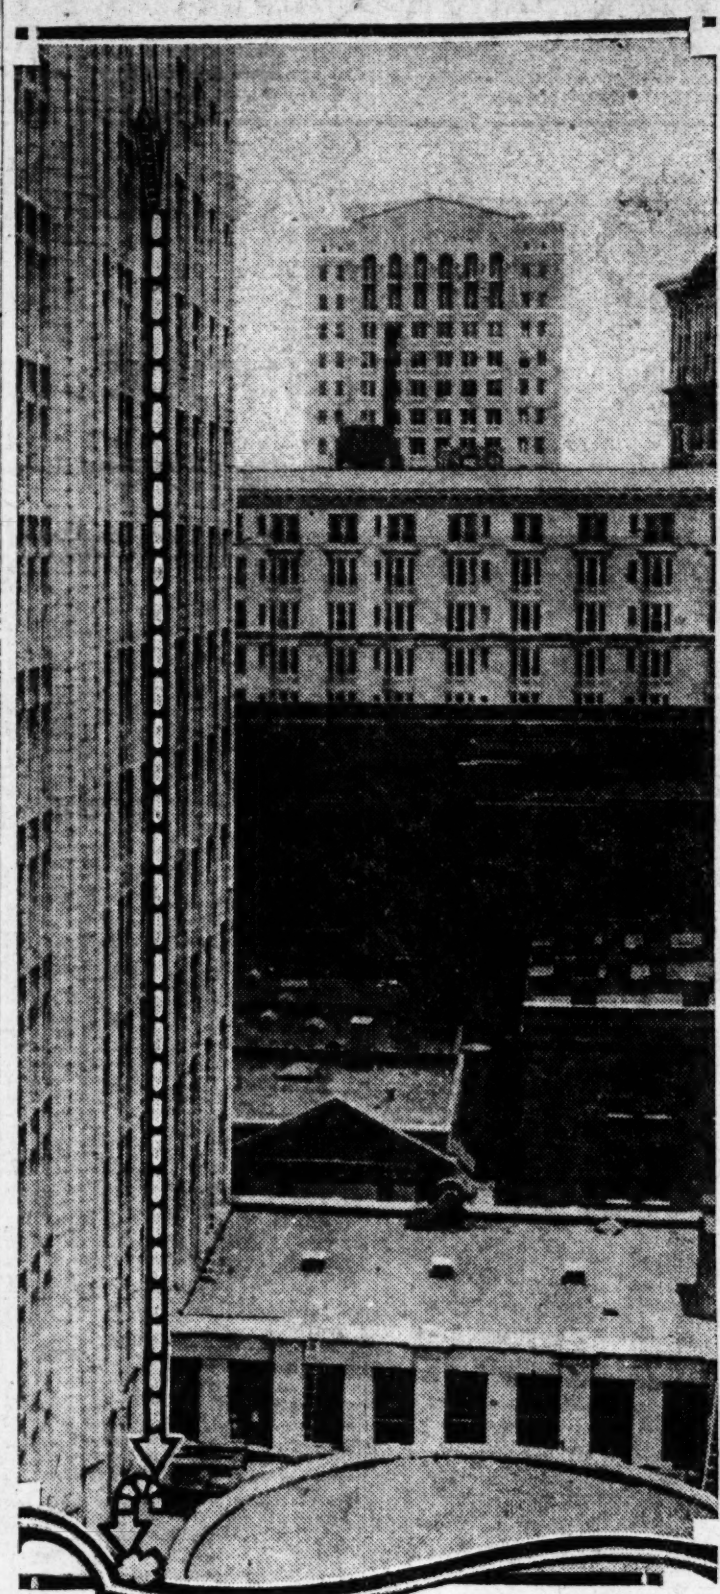

In connection with a special board named to examine engineering differences, which reported to President Coolidge in December, 1927, the attorney-general said the power of decision of the board only was upon "engineering differences," not upon questions of legal rights, duties or liabilities.

"Questions such as obligation to provide flowage rights," the opinion said, "or to make compensation in connection therewith do not fall within the term, 'engineering differences.'"

In connection with the dispute over compensation for flowage rights in Bonnet and Archafala basins, the attorney-general declared that he declined to express any opinion as to whether the plan of the federal courts involving judicial determination of the question.

12-Story Fall Kills Painter; Partner To Survive Tumble

TWO MEN HURLED FROM SCAFFOLD

Here's a rear view of the Healey building, where early Wednesday morning two painters, Sam Hammond and J. F. Hammond, plunged 12 stories from the thirteenth floor to the roof of the lobby when a scaffold on which they were working collapsed. Sam Hammond was killed, but J. F. Hammond escaped without dangerous injuries. The arrow indicates where the men struck on a wire grating. The curved line shows how one of the painters bounced off.

Sam Hammond, one of two painters injured Wednesday morning when they fell 12 stories from the Healey building, died at the Grady hospital early Wednesday night. J. F. Hammond, the second man to be injured, was expected to recover. He sustained a broken shoulder and a fractured right leg.

The two men were hurled down the side of the downtown skyscraper when a scaffold on which they were working collapsed. Sam Hammond fell on the roof of the lobby of the giant building while J. F. Hammond's fall was broken somewhat when his body struck a series of telephone and electric current wires and landed on a skylight of the lobby. J. F. Hammond, an employee of the Rankin-Whitten Realty Company, 61 North Forsyth street, was cut by flying glass from the shattered skylight. R. A. Ewing, another employee of the realty company who was beneath the falling skylight, escaped uninjured.

The two men were working painting the window sills on the thirteenth floor of the structure, when the scaffold, a fragile ladder suspended from the roof by ropes, cracked in the center, the men immediately tumbling downward.

Mrs. Margaret Covington, an occupant of 1301 Healey building, saw the fall as did S. R. McGillis, editor of the Electrical South, who also has offices in the building.

Witnesses and physicians attending J. F. Hammond said it was almost miraculous that he did not suffer fatal injuries or at least was not hurt severely. He was transferred to a private hospital and was said to be resting easily late Wednesday night. Physicians said that he would recover unless complications set in.

Sam Hammond lived at 490 McDaniel street, while J. F. Hammond lives at 549 Lynch street. Both men are married, but are no relation to each other.

Present Gas Tax Will Be Tested In Courts Here

Constitutionality of the allocation plan of the present four-cent gasoline tax law will be tested in litigation instituted Wednesday when Sheriff James L. Lowry levied on property owned by the Wofford Oil Company at Ponce de Leon avenue and Ponce de Leon place. The levy was based on a writ of fi fa issued by General William A. Wright, state comptroller for the collection of the June taxes due by the company.

Wiley L. Moore, of the Wofford Oil Company, announced that the amount of the tax would be paid by his company and that he would seek an injunction restraining the allocation of any part of the money to any purpose other than for use by the state highway department.

Mr. Moore said his company is not fighting an increase in the gasoline tax, but really favors a tax of five cents a gallon. He said his company does not believe that part of the gasoline tax should be allocated for common schools of the state or to the counties of the state for use in other than road building purposes.

Recently Mr. Moore appeared before the ways and means committee of the house and warned the members that legal proceedings would be brought to test the constitutionality of the gasoline tax allocation law. At present a tax of four cents a gallon is collected, of which 2-1/2 cents goes to the highway department, 1-1/2 cent goes to the common school equalization fund and one cent goes to the counties of the state.

SUIT TO SET ASIDE RIDGE WILL IS FILED

Daughter Contends Charity Given More Than Legal Share.

Suit seeking to set aside the will and codicil of Mrs. Nora J. Ridge on the ground that Mrs. Ridge could not legally convey to charity more than one-third of her estate was filed Wednesday in Fulton superior court by Miss Rosa Bell Holmes, daughter of Mrs. Ridge, who asks delivery of the estate from the Fulton National bank, trustee.

Miss Holmes asks that the bank be restrained from selling property of the estate in Birmingham and on Auburn avenue for $25,000. The Fulton National bank took the trusteeship over from the Adair Realty & Trust Co., the petition states. Miss Holmes alleges that the property is worth between $75,000 and $100,000. The codicil to Mrs. Ridge's will provides that on the death of Miss Holmes, half of the estate will go to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children and the other half to the Atlanta Young Women's Christian Association.

NEGRO HEARS DEATH SENTENCE SIXTH TIME

Savannah, Ga., July 24.—(AP)—George Fickling, a negro, stood before a judge in superior court today and for the sixth time heard the sentence of death in the electric chair pronounced upon him.

Judge Meldrim fixed the date of execution for Friday, August 2, 1929, of slaying his brother-in-law, Dan Strickland, and sentence of death was passed on him with the date of execution fixed for October 14, 1927.

Various appeals to higher courts have been taken since then, with the negro being formally sentenced to death after each had proven unsuccessful. The supreme court on May 19, 1928, affirmed the sentence of the lower court, but various legal moves have operated as stays of execution.

H. Mercer Jordan, the negro's attorney, announced today that despite a previous refusal by the prison commission to intercede and commute his client's sentence, he will make another appeal for clemency.

'DELAY' ON VIADUCT CAUSES $46,000 SUIT

W. R. Brown Charges Property Damaged by Pryor Street Project.

Suit for $46,000 damages was filed in Fulton superior court Wednesday by Walter R. Brown against the city of Atlanta for injury alleged to have been done Mr. Brown's property at Hunter and Pryor streets in construction of the Pryor street viaduct.

The plaintiff alleges that the change of grade made in the street by the viaduct and the installation of a narrow sidewalk has caused his property to drop from a market value of $140,000 to $100,000. Mr. Brown charges that 12 months was an unreasonable time for the viaduct work, and insists that a reasonable time would have been six months. He says in his petition that his rents and profits from the property have been $1,000 a month, and is suing for the alleged depreciation in market value and the loss of six months' rents and profits.

The Brown property is at the southwest corner of Pryor and Hunter streets.

In purchasing a car from income the average allowance on a good used car usually more than covers the initial Pierce-Arrow payment.

WHEN the new Pierce-Arrow Straight Eight made its debut early in the year, a waiting list was started. There has been a waiting list ever since—and most of the time it has been more than two thousand names long. A situation unique among automobiles today.

It just isn't possible to force Pierce-Arrow production, without some sacrifice of fineness—and that is something which is not possible to Pierce-Arrow. The result is a motor car that carries its every tradition to even higher levels than before.

FRENCH FEAR AMERICAN PAIR IN CUP FINAL

Cochet and Borotra Practice Hard for Challenge Round.

Paris, July 24.—(AP)—America's college tennis team of Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison have set the French to worrying about the outcome of the Davis Cup doubles to be played Saturday, following the opening singles battles of the challenge round Friday.

After watching the "two kids" last the everlasting daylight of Karl Kozelnik, the world's ranking professional, and Martin Plan, French pro, 6-1, 6-2, 6-0 today, Pierre Gillou, captain of the French team, ordered out the old guard, Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra, who paired together in doubles practice. The Basque and Lyons star offered Jacques Brugnon and Christian Bousquet a handicap of two games per set, which Brugnon scornfully refused and then went out to take a 3 to 0 lead over the French boys.

Cochet and Borotra, however, put on a little more speed and won the set 6-4. Then they came back to take the second 6-1. After watching the American youngsters perform Gillou said:

"We shall take no chance in the doubles match. You understand we have never seen those two kids here while we are well acquainted with Tilden and Lott."

George Lott took his workout against John Hennessey, defeating the Indianapolis player in three hard sets. Hennessey appeared intent on showing that the selection committee had erred in choosing Lott instead of himself. He went after every point as if disputing the challenge round itself. The result was some of the finest tennis ever seen in the Roland Garros

The Sultan Meditates -- A Fair Skipper -- Victor and Vanquished

At the left, Babe Ruth, sultan of swat, who pulled up lame at Cleveland last week, ponders over his approaching old age and inability to recover from hurts as quickly as he once did. In the center a young lady who has upset tradition. A popular conception has it that all skippers are swash-buckling, hard-fisted, hard-drinking, hard-swearers men. But Miss Elizabeth Hovey will skipper an entry at Marblehead next month in the international racing competition. She is the first woman to do this. At the right the winner and loser of the Westchester-Biltmore invitation golf tournament for women, Mrs. Dalton Raymond, at the right, of Baton Rouge, La., to defeat Mrs. Hazel Martelle, Hartford, Conn., in the finals by a score of one-up.

Memphis Shells Brennan To Win Third of Series

Atlantan Gives Up 15 Hits, Including Five Doubles—Weinert Holds Foes to Only Six Safe Blows.

Memphis, Tenn., July 24.—Memphis got 15 solid base hits off Don Brennan this afternoon and the Cracker winning streak fell on its left ear at Russellwood park, a most undignified position for a winning streak. Memphis won, 6 to 1 going away. Both Cracker rivals gained. The Barons increased their lead over Atlanta to five and a half games and the idle Pelicans profited, gaining a half game to lead by two full contests.

Don Brennan was behind every batter all afternoon. He was usually in a hole with the count against him. The Chickasaws were simply waiting for the one that had to be in there and cowering it. Five of the 15 base hits were doubles.

Phil Weinert, who 10 days ago pitched a no-hit game against Birmingham, was working his curve ball very effectively. He gave up seven singles but they were well scattered. Weinert's curve ball was a bit slow and the Cracker batters were hitting a bit too soon. They never got their fitting timed.

The Chickasaws really played a heads-up game. They were fielding the ball cleanly and smartly. They had three double plays during the afternoon. The attack was well balanced with the defense as all good ball games should be.

CRACKERS OUT DOWN.

Atlanta had nine men on base. Only one scored. Only four were left on base. Those three fast double plays and some excellent throwing by Johnny Berger, young Chick catcher, cut them down.

Johnny Jones, Cracker shortstop, was the busy young man of the afternoon. He scurried around in the infield all afternoon. He had eight putouts and three assists as his share of the defensive game played by the Cracker. Dick Burpee, first baseman, had but four putouts all afternoon. At the sixth inning he had but two.

As a matter of fact the Cracker didn't look at all bad. They hustled all the way and played a real ball game. Had they not been playing baseball the score would have mounted to a tremendous total.

CHICKS HARD PRESSED.

It was rather amusing that a defense with 15 base hits punched against it and five of them doubles could hold the score to six runs. The Cracker were hard pressed for those runs. The Cracker were stopped when it looked as if their hits might turn the game into a rout.

The Cracker were figured in the ball game until the eighth inning when the Chickasaws called the sixth run. It became evident then that Weinert was not going to weaken. He was growing stronger, it seemed. His control was excellent, especially for a left hander. He walked but two men in addition to allowing seven singles. It was simply old homecoming day for the ace of the Memphis staff.

When the Cracker's defense showed up as being of championship caliber. In the fourth inning, for instance, Chickasaws got a lead on balls and two singles in succession. Not a run was scored. Charley Engle, who had pitched, was thrown out at second attempting to steal.

Berger, who had singled and gone to second when Weinert singled, was trodden out by a great throw from Lopez.

CHICKS CHECKED.

The seventh inning offered an even finer illustration of the potency of the Cracker defense. In the seventh a single, sacrifice, another single and a double was good for but one Memphis run.

The Cracker were fighting all the way. They simply couldn't offset the 15-hit offense with their defense. Brennan worked hard but he was behind all afternoon and the Chickasaws were murdering his fast one when it came in there.

Memphis scored one in the first inning. Brazil doubled and went to third on a passed ball. Lopez tried to handle the ball before he had it. Brazil tallied on Leslie's infield out.

BRENNAN GETS WORKS. Brennan pitched great baseball to get out of the second without any runs. With one gone, Charley Engle beat out a single to third. Berger and Weinert were walked, filling the bases. Brennan was harrassed and weary but he bore down and struck out Williams and caused Brazil to pop to Sheehan.

Brennan went along with no more tallies until the fifth when the storm broke. Doe Prothro hit a double to left field. Leslie came right in there with a double that bounced off the leftfield fence. That was scored Prothro. Brennan, perspiring with honest effort, was getting the works. He turned in a wild pitch and Prothro went to third and scored on Phil Jones' single. Ferrell hit one to Burrows, who made a great bare-handed stop and threw to the plate. Al Lopez was knocked winding by the bull-like rush of the Chick outfielder as he charged into the plate. It was close but Jones was ruled safe. Berger added a double later on in the inning but there was no more scoring. The Chick scored one run in the seventh and eighth.

Atlanta's lone score came in the fifth. Dick Burrows singled and went to second on Hal Lee's infield out. He scored on Johnny Jones' second single of the game. The Cracker got only two men as far as second all afternoon, if there is anyone in the audience who cares for more evidence as to what kind of baseball Phil Weinert was pitching. When

DUNDEE MEETS FIELDS TONIGHT

Welterweight Crown at Stake in Fight in Detroit Arena.

Detroit, July 24.—(AP)—With their 15-round battle in the new arena at the state fair grounds, Detroiters tonight will witness a welterweight championship fight between the two contenders, Champion Joe Dundee and his challenger, Jackie Fields.

The only important event that lies between the fighters and the first round goes is the weighing-in process tomorrow afternoon. There is no doubt that the two welters will tip the official scales below the maximum of 147 pounds. Dundee, who has been fighting poundage but expects to weigh between 144 and 145.

Today's program in the two rival training camps carried but little. Both fighters went through a few rounds of light exercise just to keep loosened up. I am in the best shape I have attained in two years, said Dundee. "I hope to make my best fight in defending my title against Fields." The champion expressed confidence in his ability to wear down the challenger in the scheduled 15 rounds.

"I am going out to box and punch Dundee off his feet," declared Fields. "I mean to come out of the ring the new welterweight champion." Both fighters have agreed on Ellmore (Slim) McClelland, of Detroit, as referee. Formal choice will be announced by the state boxing commission tomorrow.

Crackers in Deal For Luther Roy

Progress was reported by R. J. Spiller yesterday in his negotiations with the Brooklyn National league club for a pitcher.

Manager Wilbert Robinson advised Spiller by telephone that he had traded Lou Knapal to the Philadelphia Phillies for Luther Roy.

"I will look over Roy a few days and if he is not ready for this league you can have him," Manager Robinson said. "And he sure to save Job Parham for me."

Spiller insisted he must have a pitcher by next Wednesday. It might be Roy.

Pittsburgh, July 24.—(United News.)—Lou Knapal, the Brooklyn pitcher, was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies today for Luther Roy, also a hurler. Manager Wilbert Robinson, of the Dodgers, announced the trade.

He also said that Glenn Wright, secured by the Robins from Pittsburgh, had been placed on the voluntary retired list because of a bad arm.

Moore To Await City Tournament

Berrien Moore, Jr., popular young Atlanta golfer who recently won the Hagan & Son golf tournament at East Lake, stated Wednesday afternoon that he will not participate in any tournaments until the city tournament in September, an invitation tourney in Albany, Ga., and the East Lake club championship during the latter part of September.

Young Moore will leave Atlanta August 1 for Milwaukee, Wis., and Chicago, where he will be with members of his family, will spend three weeks vacation.

He denied reports that he was to participate in the Metropolitan golf meet and the Illinois State Amateur tournaments as guest member of the Illinois Athletic Club.

Although he will be on a house party, young Moore stated that he will carry his golf clubs along and that he had not planned to enter any tournaments at all while on the vacation.

Shade Challenges Mickey Walker

Chicago, July 24.—(United News.) Dave Shade today flung a challenge with the athletic commission for a middleweight championship match with Champion Mickey Walker. The challenge was received from Lee P. Ryan, Shade's adviser, and said a substantial forfeit will be sent here within a few days.

Fox Not Yet 22, Hits Like Veteran

Jimmy Fox, first baseman of the Philadelphia Athletics, who has been leading the American league batsmen the greater part of the season, uses four bats in slugging out homers and other distance clouts. He stands erect at the right side of the plate and swings a 36-inch bat which he holds near the handle. Fox, who will be 22 years old October 22, stands 5 feet 11 inches in height and weighs 175 pounds. He broke into the major leagues as a catcher with Connie Mack's team six years ago.

Wayward Boye BOSWELLED BY Ed Danforth

Remarkable Landing at Pelham

Above is an action picture of Wayward Boye stepping from his plane, "The Tail Spin," on the air field at Pelham, Ga., after making a spectacular landing in the face of great difficulties. "The Tail Spin" became twisted while Wayward was doing a series of loops above Moultrie and the landing gear was wrenched around to the top side of the ship. Wayward, however, made a landing using the tail skid and one foot which he poked through the floor of the cockpit.

Brunswick, Ga., July 24.—Wayward Boye, the Man Without Air-Mind, taxied into Brunswick this afternoon and was here to greet the All-Georgia Air Tourists when they landed this afternoon.

Wayward's plane, "The Tail Spin" was forced down at Waycross when the night controls became jammed and his earth induction compass threw a tire.

It was the first minor mishap of the tour, but all hands breathed a sigh of relief when "The Tail Spin" came to earth on the rips. "The Tail Spin" had caused no end of annoyance that far by refusing to pull over to the side of the air lane on signal from the flight commander, or anybody else, as for that matter.

While "The Tail Spin" was being reconitioned by the mother ship, a road scraper generously provided by the state highway department to follow Wayward's plane, the tangle-eyed pilot went over his records.

It was found he had shattered all known endurance marks by several years. Wayward already had been up in the air for 28 years, ever since that time in Kentucky when he was arrested for scorching on his bicycle. His hours with the air tour round out a record that will stand for days.

While the squadron had lunch at Valdosta, Wayward entertained the crowd of 76,000 people by stunt flying. While "The Tail Spin" responded to his touch like a cigarette lighter in a thunderstorm, Wayward did sitting-standing-sitting dives, flying mares, midcourt volleys, permanent waves and hook slides. He finished by doing a pole vault over the heads of the crowd.

"The Tail Spin" will be brought into Brunswick tonight by the mother ship and Wayward will be ready to resume his place in the squadron tomorrow morning when the first faint streaks of dawn gild the mortgages of Sea Island Beach. Wayward positively denied the report that he would be unable to make a speech at McRae, Ga., when the flight lands there Thursday to dedicate the airport.

YALE-GA. GAME PLANS ARE MADE

Georgia Committee Devising Methods for Handling Huge Crowd.

Although the Yale-Georgia football game scheduled for Athens, Ga., October 12, is more than three months off, officials at the state institution are already working on plans to care for the record-breaking crowd expected to see the game. Dr. S. V. Sanford, faculty chairman of athletics, and Charles E. Martin, assistant to Dr. Sanford, are taking advantage of every opportunity to make the plans as complete as possible.

Transportation and parking space in Athens is the principal object of worry in working out the details of the dedication exercises and games. Officials of the athletic association and members of the faculty are urging as many persons as will to attend the game by train.

Traveling by train not only solves the principal issue in working out plans for the day, but it lessens accident hazards on the crowded roads, which are certain to be packed with a continuous line of vehicles of all makes and descriptions.

RECEPTION PLANNED.

While a committee is working on the transportation and traffic details in Athens, another committee headed by members of the city chamber of commerce and city government heads, is working on plans for the reception of visitors, friends and former students of the university.

Athens will be dressed up as never before. Brilliant red and blue with Yale and Georgia pennants and banners flying everywhere, will predominate. The city has already appropriated a large sum to decorate the main streets.

A general holiday will be declared, especially between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock and Athens is already predicting that it will be the greatest day in the history of the city, as far as athletics and the university are concerned.

Sanford field, which will seat 33,000 persons, will be a riot of color, with the blue and white of Yale and the red and black of Georgia everywhere. Pennants of both colleges, intermingled with those of other southern colleges, will fly from the entrance of each aisle. At one end of the field Old Glory will flutter on the breeze while over the press stands will fly the flags of Connecticut and Georgia.

RAILROADS HELP.

Every railroad entering Athens is working on plans to accommodate the crowd. Specials will be run from New York, Washington, Chicago, Memphis, Jacksonville, Savannah, Columbus, New Orleans and several from Atlanta. All of the specials will pick up alumni and friends of the institution all along the routes.

There will be train accommodations to suit the pleasure of all attendees, including chartered cars and all-Fullman trains, which will leave Athens immediately after the game is over. The game will be called at 2 o'clock, eastern time, and will be over in time for all the trains to leave Athens before midnight.

A 'Georgia' Foster To Enter Tech This Fall

Albert G. Foster, Star at Athens, Gives Announcement Barbecue for Jacket-Elect.

By Ed Danforth.

Albert G. Foster's boy is going to enter Georgia Tech this fall—Albert's boy, Julian, six feet two of athlete.

Now Albert G. Foster, of the Morgan county Fosters, is a University of Georgia man. He is Georgia through and through. There have been times in his day when he might have wielded a mighty fist in defense of a delicate point of honor in the case of the athletic dignity of the university were violated by a man from the Tech.

It was the dearest wish of Albert G. Foster that his eldest son one day would enter the university and wear the old Red and Black uniform of the Georgia nine back in 1896.

But, as sons will in these modern days, Julian finished his career at Riverside Military academy, winning letters in five sports, and advised his father that he wanted to go to Georgia Tech and study electrical engineering.

If it was a blow to Albert G. Foster he has never shown it. He motored over bringing with them Al Doonan, Drew Swanson, Reynolds Tichenor, Schuyler La Strade, Tobe Edwards, John Scott and me. The sympathies of Messrs. Doonan, Edwards and Swanson are notoriously Techish; but Mr. Scott is another of these fiery Athens sympathizers. Mr. Tichenor having played football at both Georgia and Auburn is almost neutral; Mr. La Strade is neutral; to the latter class I naturally belong, having been late for classes at Kentucky.

So the Tech element was not numerous enough to stage any gloating party over the announcement that they were about to inherit the son of the Fosters.

So Albert G. Foster, the distinguished Georgia advocate and orator, waved his magic wand and created a barbecue in the depths of the woods where red foxes are waiting to be chased and birds are fattening against the coming of November, and cotton is looking exceptionally fine and nobody worries about anything but lack of roads.

UNCLE BOSE. The barbecue was a stag affair. It was cooked by a negro pit-wizard and served by capable black hands. Uncle Bose Copeland, 75 if he is a day, toothless and wrinkled, was a special guest, too. Uncle Bose was attached to the McWhorter family at Penfield and he gave an imitation of Major Bob McWhorter making a political speech that is said by those who know to be the very voice of the distinguished Georgian. Uncle Bose wears his hair in plaits and affects a red felt hat.

A party of Augusta financiers headed by Charles Phinry, president of the Georgia Railroad bank, came down in a private car for the day. Assisting Mr. Foster in entertaining were such eminent for hunters and politicians as C. H. Baldwin and Mills McNeil. P. F. Beards, president of the

YANKS DEFEAT TIGERS, 7 TO 5

Dickey Hits Homer To Have Perfect Day; Ruth Back in Lineup.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—The New York Yankees sprinted up from the rear with a three-run rally in the eighth inning today to nip Detroit for the Tigers' sixth straight defeat. The Yankees won by the same score as in the series opened yesterday 7 to 5.

The victory marked Babe Ruth's return to the starting lineup after a week on the sidelines due to a strained leg muscle. The Bambino failed to get a hit but performed without trace of a limp.

Bill Dickey, Rookie catcher, helped Herb Pennock gain the victory over George Uhl, Detroit ace. Dickey hit a homer and three singles at crucial moments.

The Possibilities

Grantland Rice

It will be interesting to see whether Campolo turns out to be another eminent ring possibility, with every chance for success, who fails to grab the opportunity.

He has size, strength, power, speed, some skill and something better than a fair punch. All the ingredients are there if he can take a little and is not too easily discouraged. He is one of the fastest big men the ring has seen in a long time. A lot depends upon his ambition and his capacity for work. These were two of Tunney's leading qualities and the six-champion had nothing like the physical qualifications that Campolo carries into action. But Tunney was willing to work and learn, to improve his boxing and his punch from the best instruction he could get, added to almost endless practice.

Campolo can step around as lively as a middleweight. He has weight and height without any appearance of bulk. His muscular make-up should give him a world of punching power if he learns how to use it in full. He belongs to the type of material that can be easily improved and with a little more improvement he will deal out a carload of trouble to any one he meets.

It has been said that any height above six feet and any weight above 200 pounds is useless in the ring. There is no reason why this should be so if the excess height and weight can be properly trained. Most of this surplus stuff is all waste and in the way. Campolo, in his first try-out the other night, gave evidence that he could use it.

He still has to prove that he can take a tagging without dropping or losing heart interest in the proceedings. And this happens to be a big part of the entire enterprise. He has a fair left hand, but with his reach he could develop a much better one, sufficiently useful to give him a good chance against any heavyweight he meets. At least he has the chance to get this far if he will only get it all from the raw material at hand.

It Can Happen.

"Didn't you get Hack Wilson and Bing Miller mixed up in a recent article?" asks L. D. Not mixed up so much as interchanged. One of those fops where you mean to write Miller and for some fuzzy reason write Wilson, both being hard-hitting outfielders. It can happen around midnight with the thermometer still above 88.

Tournament Gets Under Way Today on Historic Canada Golf Course.

By Walter Hagen.

Montreal, July 24.—(U.N.A.)—The third major open tournament of the International Golf league, the Canadian open, begins Thursday at the Kanawaki Golf Club, in this city. Single rounds will be played on the first two days and these will be followed with a 36-hole finish on Saturday.

Diegel Is Ready To Defend Title

Montreal, Que., July 24.—(United Press.)—Leo Diegel, Canadian open champion, who defends his title in the 72-hole tournament which opens here tomorrow, indicated today he was ready for a great effort.

Playing a practice round over the championship course, Diegel returned a superb score and declared he felt the course adapted to his style of game. Another low score in the practice rounds was Horton Smith, youthful Joplin, Mo., professional, who holds the French title.

Others here for the championship include Walter Hagen, Joe Turnesa, Johnny Farrell, Abe Esplanosa, MacDonald Smith, and George Von Elm, former American amateur champion.

Polo Player Dead After Collision

Norwood, Mass., July 24.—(AP)—James P. Mandell, 23, Myopia Hunt club and Harvard varsity polo player, died at a hospital here early today from an intra-cranial injury suffered Monday in a match at Westwood when his mount collided with one ridden by George O. Clark, 24, of the Deham Polo and Country club.

His father, George S. Mandell, publisher of the Boston Evening Transcript, his mother and a sister were at the bedside.

Young Mandell did not regain consciousness after the accident. In a final attempt to save his life yesterday four noted surgeons performed a delicate operation on both sides of the brain.

Mandell would have been graduated from Harvard in June, but illness during the winter compelled him to neglect his studies. He planned to return to college in the fall. He had been keenly interested in polo throughout his collegiate career and was a member of the varsity squad for three years.

Clark, a brother of Forrester "Tim" Clark, Harvard polo and crew captain and football star, showed slight improvement today, and there was increased hope he would recover. He has been in a coma most of the time since the accident.

Four Champions Enter Amateur

New York, July 24.—(AP)—National champions of four countries will be in the fold when play begins in the national amateur golf championship at Del Monte, Cal., September 2.

Bobby Jones, who is to defend his United States crown, will lead the list. The others are Cyril Tolley, holder of the British title; Ross Somerville, king of Canadian amateurs; and Jack Westland, who recently won the French title.

More than 200 entries for the championship had been received when the lists closed last night, virtually every first-rank amateur in the country having signified his intent to compete. Thirty of these automatically are eligible because they have qualified in the last three championships. Entries of the others will be considered by the championship committee of the United States Golf Association during the next few days.

St. Louis Boat Club To Compete in East

The Century Boat Club of St. Louis will be among contestants in the senior eight-oared race of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen at Springfield, Mass., August 1 and 2. The regatta will bring together five army of club oars and will include the Massachusetts Institute of Technology oarsmen.

The national association at its annual meeting in March voted to allow colleges to join the organization, and Tech is the first to enter competition. Princeton and Pennsylvania and several other colleges have joined.

When a Feller Needs a Friend

NO MORE COBBS, SAYS MORIARTY

Great Tyrus Had Everything Necessary for Perfect Player.

By George Moriarty, Big League Umpire. (Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

New York, July 24.—Although a generous crop of rookies has appeared in the major leagues this season, uncovering another Ty Cobb seems as futile as ever.

Cobb is generally conceded the greatest player the game ever produced. That he "had everything" is a truism. He had the speed, the power, the hitting, the fielding, the base running, the leadership, the leadership, the leadership.

For the "stealth" time I was asked the other day: "Do you think the game will ever produce another Cobb?" I do not believe we shall ever see a player equal to Cobb. All great stars from the days of "King" Kelly, Anson, and Ed Delahanty, to the present, have been of a different type. Take modern stars: Ruth, Speaker, Roush, Hornsby, and Sisler have hit the peaks of fame in a playing fashion that becomes self-evident. Perhaps every star scintillates in his own sweet way because nature frowns upon duplicates in human machinery.

Nowadays when a speedy and sensational player breaks into the game he is often compared with the once masterful Cobb, who set the standard for superlative performance in the field, at bat, and on the bases. Ira Thomas, who taught for Philadelphia 15 years ago, paid high tribute to Cobb's base stealing ability.

"I can stop Cobb's stealing," said Thomas to his mates on a day. "How can you do it?" they inquired.

"It's easy," remarked Thomas. "I merely tell Cobb he's reached first base, and when he starts to steal second I throw to third."

Eleven Boston batters went to the plate and manufactured seven runs. After this scoring there was still none out when Ken Williams doubled and was sacrificed to third. Rothrock then grounded to Melillo, who threw home to head off Williams.

Ken jogged safely between infielders till Rothrock, the batter-base runner, had sped from the plate to third base. I had not seen that stunt in years.

When Williams was finally cornered it was Melillo, left fielder, who tagged him out near third base. In this inning three Boston batters were sent to the plate to sacrifice but their efforts went foul. Two strikes had been recorded when each batter drove out a hit. Williams, the one runner successfully sacrificed to third base, failed to score. Rather a situation wherein King Bats Hit laughed at the bunch.

Serious efforts are being made to eliminate the five-and-ten-cent home runs. While circuit drives were raging in the last month two magnates and a league president took the law into their own hands and instituted the first steps toward cutting the evil down to a minimum. Phil Ball, president of the St. Louis Browns, erected a wire screen in front of his right field pavilion which has already cut 15 possible homers into two batters. The Philadelphia Nationals followed suit. The third step was taken by the president of the elder circuit, who ordered his umpires to seal each supply of new balls before the game.

Memphis Prohi Agent Won Flag for Atlanta

Finis E. Wilson, in 1913, Pitched Pels To Victory Over Bears To Give Crackers Rag.

By Ralph McGill, Constitution Staff Correspondent.

Memphis, Tenn., July 24.—In an office at the custom house here in old Shelby county with the Mississippi meandering by just outside the window I found the man who won the 1913 pennant for the Atlanta Crackers. Finis E. Wilson, who left a bank presidency in Kentucky to battle Shelby county bootleggers, does not look like the young left-handed pitcher who gave the greatest exhibition of courage the Southern Association ever saw. His hair is gray now and he looks positively genial, but in his first week here as deputy prohibition administrator he landed 73 men in jail for handling booze. Try and get them to say he is genial.

It was at Mobile in 1913 that young Finis Wilson won a pennant for the Crackers while they were sitting at home watching the score board.

It was quite a race that year. Mobile led all the way, but the Crackers closing in. There remained one more game to be played. Mobile, a half game ahead of the Crackers, had to play New Orleans. If they won they would win the pennant by a game and a half. Even a tie would give them the pennant. If they lost they would lose to the Crackers by three percentage points.

New Orleans had a terrible ball club. They were in last place and were very definitely "beat" by the Crackers. They were young, left-handed, Finis E. Wilson, whom Cleveland had sent down about the middle of the season.

Old Charles Frank, for some reason or other, saved Wilson for the final game. Mobile papers berated him. Baseball was a passion with the fans there. They didn't take it as calmly nor view happenings with the tolerance that they have now.

"They had the patrol all ready," said Wilson today as he recalled the game. "The plan was to make me mad and get me to fight. The police would then have taken me down to jail and kept me until after the game."

"Before the game they tried to intimidate me," he said. "Johnston might be shot if I pitched and won the game. Before play, the Mobile players tried to get me not to pitch. They charged Charley Frank with sportsmanlike tactics because he was trying to win the game."

"Boys," I told them, "I hope you win the game. But I'm going out there and pitch the best I know how. I never quit a game and don't intend to. I hope you win, but if you don't it won't be because I haven't tried." With that answer Finis E. Wilson went in and stopped the Crackers' collapse.

When he came to the plate the catcher would step on his feet. He was called unprintable names, plenty of them. They tried everything to get him to fight.

Wilson has an old clipping of a statement by Jules Heinemann. He told of watching the grim-faced Wilson pitching while old Charley Frank sat with arms folded over his stomach and sneered at the Mobile bench. Heinemann declared it the greatest exhibition of cool courage he had ever seen. The crippled and decrepit old.

HORSES FINISH IN DEAD HEAT

Night Extra and Prince Toy Split Purse at Empire City.

By Orlo L. Robertson.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Scheduled just this usual opener for youngsters valued at $2,000 to $3,000, the first race at Empire City turned into a thriller today as J. H. Louchim's Prince Toy and R. T. Wilson's Night Extra raced to the first dead heat of the season on New York turf.

With 12 of the lesser lights accepting the issue in the five-furlong journey, the race soon developed into a two-horse affair between Prince Toy and Night Extra. Night Extra went out in front on the stretch turn as Prince Toy slipped through on the inside. The two colts went in a dead heat in the Metropolitan district this year.

FINISH EVEN.
Closing rapidly, Prince Toy was soon on even terms with the chestnut colt from the Wilson stable. With F. Catron up, on the Locheim entry, and E. Barnes astride Night Extra, going to the whip the two colts went into the final drive taking stride for stride. And that is the way they went under the wire, three lengths in front of Monica, which took down Show Nery. All wagers on the two winners were divided.

Golden-colored Polydor came back to the racing ways today and turned in a brilliant victory in the Fleet Wing handicap for three-year-olds and up over the six-furlong route. Empire The William Ziegler, Jr., star had been idle since Memorial Day. Only three other sprinters chose to endeavor to match strides against the speeding four-year-old of Golden Broom, Nusan, an added starter, with Chatford, carrying a 125-pound load, the Polydor, third, Ramonaur was fourth and last.

TRY TOO WINS.
The Warm stable's Try Too put in his claim for western two-year-old colt and gelding honors today as he carried off the honors in the Hyde park handicap for 8- and 9-year-olds at Arlington park.

Taking advantage of his four pounds less weight than the Lemar Stock Farm's Morsel, the favorite, the son Try Too raced under the finish wire a half-length in front of Alimony, with Morsel a length back for third. Try Too, neglected by the public, paid $26.00 for a $2 mutual win ticket. He stepped the five and one-half furlongs in 1:05 4-5.

Bicycle Races Here Stir Much Interest
Bicycle races for boys and girls in Atlanta at Lakewood are gaining headway, and it seems that it will be necessary to divide the entrance into four sections, and run off preliminary heats in each event, the quarter, half and mile events, and then let the winners in each heat race for the championship of Atlanta.

Alfred C. Newell, president of the Southeastern Fair Association, is the sponsor of this event, and the kids will be permitted to use the track for practice each afternoon from 3 to 5. There is no entrance fee and no admission will be charged to the grandstand.

All youngsters from 12 to 17 are eligible to enter and all that is necessary is to send in your name, age, and which event you desire to enter and then wait the opening gong on August 17.

Savannah Racer Enters at Lakewood
With the entry of Jack Haney in the southern championship motorcycle races at Lakewood park on August 3, interest has increased immeasurably. Bill Martin, of Savannah, who has been after a race with Jack Haney for three years, wired in his entry with the remark that he wished to get a chance to meet Haney.

Clarence Pearce, of Atlanta, also entered the mile speed test, which makes him eligible to compete in other events on the card, providing his time in the test is fast enough.

There will be no admission at the gates to Lakewood and the price of grandstand seats has been reduced for this card of eight events.

At least thirty entrants are expected and Sunday the track at Lakewood will be cluttered up with aspirants to motorcycle championship honors, tuning up their various machines.

Dave Black Wins Over Nunnally, 4-3

Winner Will Meet Tulley Walsh For Right To Play Garlington at Capital City.

Playing consistent golf, Dave Black defeated Hugh Nunnally, 4-3, Wednesday afternoon at Capital City Club and went into the semi-finals of the lower bracket of the club championship tournament. Black will meet Tully Walsh and the winner will play Dick Garlington for the club title.

Black and Walsh will play during the latter part of the week and the finals will be played early next week, it was announced at the club Wednesday following the afternoon's play.

In the semi-finals of the other flights, Morgan Wynne defeated W. R. Minnich, 1 up, and Fred Minnich defeated Blair Foster, 6-5, in the first flight.

W. D. Owens defeated Charlie Nunnally, 6-5, and F. G. Williams defeated J. D. Robinson, Jr., 5-3, in the semi-finals of the second flight.

C. B. Wilson defeated George Raine, 2-1, in the third flight and will meet T. B. Shropshire, Jr., for the flight title.

B. W. Mangham defeated J. C. Harris, Jr., 7-6, Tuesday afternoon and went into the finals of the fourth flight Wednesday by a 5-4 victory over C. F. Palmer.

C. T. Adams won the championship of the fifth flight Wednesday when he defeated Clark Howell, Jr., 2-1, in a hard fought match.

Hartford Golfers Increase Lead.
Hartford Insurance Company increased its lead in the Insurance Golf league by a 15-to-3 victory over the Royal Insurance Company team Wednesday afternoon in a regular weekly match over the Black Rock course.

Southeastern Underwriters retained third place in the standing with a 17-12 victory over the Insurance Company of North America team.

O. C. Cronwell scored 11 points for Hartford when he defeated Walter Bone, 11 up. W. W. Roberts gave Hartford 5 points when he defeated J. A. Tischer. Another five points were added to the Hartford score when Fletcher Quillian defeated "Dutch" Sands. Jake Hill scored the only 3 points for Royal when he won from C. A. Woolford.

In Southeastern's victory Muggsy Smith defeated Tom Donaldson, 8 up; Jake McConnell defeated Walt Newman, 6 up; Frank Jones defeated Rupert Getzen, 6 up, and Gene Denington defeated Sid Sault, 6 up. Fireman's Fund drew a bye.

Ansel Park Play Progresses.
Ansel Park golfers were busy Wednesday afternoon playing a number of first round matches in a club handicap tournament, but none of the matches in the championship flight have been completed.

In the second flight Dr. H. H. Marshall defeated D. L. Adams, 1 up, in an interesting match.

C. T. Ansel won a feature match, 1 up, on the twentieth green from A. O. Mitchell in the third flight. It was a nip and tuck match from the very beginning, with neither having particular advantage. E. H. Burton eliminated Johnnie Rossett, 6-5; Frank Wilson defeated R. J. Cunningham, 1 up, and Dr. J. C. Wright won from S. R. Foy, 1 up, and T. M. Smith defeated O. E. Only three other sprinters chose to endeavor to match strides against the speeding four-year-old of Golden Broom, Nusan, an added starter, with Chatford, carrying a 125-pound load, the Polydor, third, Ramonaur was fourth and last.

TRY TOO WINS.
The Warm stable's Try Too put in his claim for western two-year-old colt and gelding honors today as he carried off the honors in the Hyde park handicap for 8- and 9-year-olds at Arlington park.

Taking advantage of his four pounds less weight than the Lemar Stock Farm's Morsel, the favorite, the son Try Too raced under the finish wire a half-length in front of Alimony, with Morsel a length back for third. Try Too, neglected by the public, paid $26.00 for a $2 mutual win ticket. He stepped the five and one-half furlongs in 1:05 4-5.

Bicycle Races Here Stir Much Interest
Bicycle races for boys and girls in Atlanta at Lakewood are gaining headway, and it seems that it will be necessary to divide the entrance into four sections, and run off preliminary heats in each event, the quarter, half and mile events, and then let the winners in each heat race for the championship of Atlanta.

Alfred C. Newell, president of the Southeastern Fair Association, is the sponsor of this event, and the kids will be permitted to use the track for practice each afternoon from 3 to 5. There is no entrance fee and no admission will be charged to the grandstand.

All youngsters from 12 to 17 are eligible to enter and all that is necessary is to send in your name, age, and which event you desire to enter and then wait the opening gong on August 17.

Savannah Racer Enters at Lakewood
With the entry of Jack Haney in the southern championship motorcycle races at Lakewood park on August 3, interest has increased immeasurably. Bill Martin, of Savannah, who has been after a race with Jack Haney for three years, wired in his entry with the remark that he wished to get a chance to meet Haney.

Clarence Pearce, of Atlanta, also entered the mile speed test, which makes him eligible to compete in other events on the card, providing his time in the test is fast enough.

There will be no admission at the gates to Lakewood and the price of grandstand seats has been reduced for this card of eight events.

At least thirty entrants are expected and Sunday the track at Lakewood will be cluttered up with aspirants to motorcycle championship honors, tuning up their various machines.

Our impression, gained from customers throughout the south, is that next fall will be a banner season. Many say crops are the best in 5 years. — Muse's.

1,353 CRIMINAL CASES HEARD IN U. S. COURT

Northern District Circuit Has Heaviest Docket in History.

One thousand, three hundred and fifty-three criminal cases were terminated in the United States court for the northern district of Georgia during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, which is the largest number in the court's history, according to figures made public Wednesday afternoon by Clint W. Hager, United States district attorney. These figures include the three divisions of Rome, Gainesville and Atlanta.

Of this number convictions totaled 1,132, acquittals 58 and dismissed cases 163. The percentage of convictions was approximately 96. Mr. Hager's figures showed, which represents a decided increase over the 88 per cent of the previous fiscal year. Last year's record of convictions was regarded as phenomenal and it is understood that the mark of 96 per cent established during the year just closed will rank high with any other judicial district in the entire country.

Prohibition cases formed the bulk of the criminal business in all three divisions. Eight hundred and fifteen of these cases were pending at the close of the fiscal year June 30, 1928, and since that time, 1,390 have been begun. Prohibition cases terminated during the fiscal year just closed totaled 1,150 of which number 490 were convicted, a percentage of 95.5. More than 1,000 cases were brought over into the present fiscal year.

Narcotic cases were next in number. Figures in this division show 49 cases brought over; 62 new cases begun; 41 cases terminated; 40 convictions; one acquittal and 5 dismissals. Thirty-seven defendants entered guilty pleas while four were given jury trials. A total of 65 cases was pending at the close of business June 30, 1929.

In the auto theft classification, 23 cases were brought over, 51 instituted and 51 terminated. Convictions numbered 38 while one was acquitted and 12 dismissed.

Victim of Crash Yet Unidentified; 2,500 View Body

More than 500 persons Wednesday viewed the body of a 16-year-old unidentified boy at the mortuary of the Awtry & Lowndes Company, where more than 2,500 persons have viewed it since the boy was killed by an automobile Sunday night on Whitehall street near Hood street.

Though many said that the body bore some resemblance to boys they know to be missing, none could identify it.

Officials of the Awtry & Lowndes Company said Wednesday night they would continue to hold the body in hope of identification.

Meanwhile 16-year-old Ward Davidson, who Tuesday had been positively identified as the dead boy by his uncle, T. N. Hammond, and his stepmother, Mrs. Margaret Davidson, was back at his work in a garage at Stewart and Lakewood avenues, it having been learned that instead of being "missing" he was making his home with a sister, Mrs. Ethel Brownlow, 933 West View drive.

Only a slim clue to the identity of the unknown boy was furnished Wednesday. James Torbush, of 1131 Alene avenue, S. W., told authorities that he had talked to the dead youth last Friday, and that he had been told that the boy was hitch-hiking his way from his home in Houston, Texas, to Augusta, Ga., where his uncle lives. The first name of the youth was John, according to Torbush, who says that he bought a ticket for the hitch-hiker. Torbush made these revelations after viewing the body of the youth at Awtry & Lowndes' establishment.

Alleged Hit-Run Driver Captured By Girl Victim

Hit-and-run drivers get away sometimes, but Miss Mary Warnock, of 1211 West Peachtree street, put a crimp in the style of an alleged get-away motorist Wednesday night in a rather unusual manner, especially for a young lady, who police say, is about 18 years old. Miss Warnock's car was wrecked in a collision with the automobile of J. G. Funderburk, of 428 South Pryor street, on Cleburn avenue.

Funderburk's car was not badly damaged and he kept going according to police reports. Miss Warnock promptly hailed a passing auto in which two men were driving and gave chase to Funderburk, who was rapidly disappearing down the street. The latter was caught at Edgewood avenue and Howell street.

Call Officers C. E. Floyd and L. E. Ratledge responded to the young lady's summons and Funderburk was taken to jail, where he is being held in default of $500 bail. Charges of drunk, reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident were preferred.

GEORGIA FACTORY HEADS AGREEABLE TO LOWER TAXES

Members of the Georgia Manufacturers' Association would be agreeable to a sales tax on manufactured products of one-twentieth of one per cent, it became known Wednesday following the fourteenth annual meeting of the association Tuesday at the Biltmore hotel. A bill now pending in the assembly calls for a tax of one-twentieth of one per cent. Other bills pending in the state legislature were discussed at the meeting, at which Seaborn Wright, state senator from the forty-second district, made the keynote speech.

Thomas M. Brumby, of Marietta, was re-elected president of the association, and W. B. Baker, of Atlanta, was re-elected chairman of the board of directors. Other officers elected were: Vice President, Porter G. Pierpont, Savannah; Robert Gregg, Atlanta; A. P. Tripod, Atlanta; D. A. Jewell, Chickamauga, and A. V. Cortright, Tate; general counsel, Robert S. Parker, and secretary-treasurer, J. P. McGrath.

An invitation from the Savannah Board of Trade to hold the 1930 convention in Savannah was referred to the executive committee for action.

Divorce Thrown Out.
London, July 24.—(P)—The house of lords today threw out the divorce decree granted Lady Patricia Ross granted by Scottish courts against her husband, Charles Ross, the rifle inventor, of Balmagowan, Scotland. The house of lords tribunal found that the intermediate decree appealed on the question of misconduct should have been reversed.

NOW COLOR TAKES THE SCREEN!

Warner Bros. present
The first 100% Natural Color
ALL SINGING PRODUCTION IN TECHNICOLOR

"ON WITH THE SHOW—"

Less than two short years ago Vitaphone took the world by storm...And now Warner Bros. pioneer again with another radical development in motion picture production—COLOR!

"On With The Show" will go down in history as the First ALL-COLOR Vitaphone Talking Picture ever made!

Full colors—natural colors—real colors, reproduced direct from life!

Color breaks the last barrier between you and Broadway at its best. Now the Screen can give you everything the Stage can offer—and more...

For at "On With The Show" you can sit "out front" and revel in all the color and rhythm of the spectacular singing and dancing numbers of a Broadway revue—then step behind the curtain to listen in on the strange drama and romance that wings and dressing-rooms hold secret...see heartbreak hiding behind hilarity because—"the show must go on!"

With 100% Talking and Singing, an all-star cast of 14 famous names, a glorified beauty chorus of 100, and 3 brand-new song hits—"Am I Blue?", "Let Me Have My Dreams", and "In the Land of Let's Pretend"—"ON WITH THE SHOW" would be superb picture entertainment, even in black and white...But the added thrill of All-Color makes it an artistic event of commanding importance in entertainment history. Make—or break—a date to see it!

You see and hear Vitaphone only in Warner Bros. and First National Pictures

IT SURE IS GREAT TO BE DOWN ON SEVEN WILLOWS ISLAND AGAIN. WE DIDN'T MISS ANYBODY UNTIL WE GOT OUT THE CANOES, I SAW THE LITTLE BROWN ONE WAS GONE.

GEE? THAT WORRIES ME! WHERE DID HE GO?

OH! HE'LL COME BACK! WAIT UNTIL IT GETS TIME TO EAT!

HAWKINS, WHERE DO YOU THINK CLARENCE IS?

MAYBE THERE IS ANOTHER WILD MAN ON THIS ISLAND!

WELL, I GUESS THE POOR KID GOT HOME SICK AND WENT BACK HOME!

I WISH I COULD BELIEVE THAT!

ALL RIGHT! I'LL DO IT.

COME ON, GET TO BED RIGHT AWAY!

NOBODY SAID A WORD FOR A WHILE. THEN THE SKINNY GUY'S POP SAID, 'HAWKINS, TOMORROW YOU'VE GOT TO GET UP EARLY AND GO BACK AND FIND OUT IF CLARENCE WENT HOME!'

BYE TILL TOMORROW.

THE SKINNY GUY SAID, "NO! THE RED HEAD AND I WERE OVER EVERY PART OF THIS ISLAND — THERE'S NOBODY ELSE ON IT! EVEN THE PELHAMS ARE STAYING AWAY NOW!"

WE WENT IN SWIMMING ALL DAY. WE WAITED SUPPER FOR CLARENCE BUT HE DIDN'T SHOW UP. THE FELLOWS WENT TO BED BUT I SAT UP WITH THE SKINNY GUY AND HIS POP.

THEN I NOTICED THAT CLARENCE WILKS WAS MISSING. I RAN INTO THE HOUSEBOAT TO SEE IF HIS TWO SUIT CASES WERE GONE. THEY WERE! THEN I TOLD THE FELLOWS.

Simplicity and impressive dignity featured the wedding ceremony of Miss Colan Louise Thomason and Humphrey Cooper Traylor, which was solemnized last evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thomason of Hardee street. The occasion assembled a group of close friends and relatives of the bride and groom and Rev. W. T. Handy, pastor of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Spirit church, was the officiating minister. Mrs. E. M. Smith, well-known pianist, played a musical program of the bride's choice prior to the marriage service and during the ceremony she played softly "O Promise Me." Attractive decorations were used throughout the reception rooms in which were colored dahlia predominating in the color of the bride's gown. A wide aisle leading into the living room, where the marriage rites were read, was formed of four baskets filled with lavender-shaded dahlias and linked together by wide pink satin ribbon. Palms, ferns and foliage plants marked the fireplace in the living room, but the bride's party, including a cathedral candelabra holding white burning tapers interspersed the daisies at artistic intervals. The bride wore a gown of pink and lavender dahlia.

Wedding Attendants.

The bride was accompanied to the altar by her sister, Mrs. J. K. Compton, who acted as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses L. B. and his brother, B. L. Traylor, who was the best man. Mrs. Compton's escort was fashioned of navy blue tulle and white satin, with a long, a gown of independence blue chiffon with a Bakku straw hat to match trimmed with velvet in a matching shade. The bridesmaids wore bouquets of pink roses and valley lilies. Immediately after the ceremony Mr.

and Mrs. Thomason, the bride's parents, entertained at an informal reception at which Miss Charity Lee Granger and Mrs. Thomas White served. Mr. W. T. Thomason kept the bride's book.

Wedding Trip.

Mr. Traylor and his bride left for a motor trip to north Georgia and Alabama. The bride's traveling costume was a smart two-piece model of tan and brown crepe worn with a small brown felt hat. On their return from the wedding trip Mr. Traylor and his bride will take possession of their new home at 414 Anniston avenue, northwest corner of Third and Adams streets.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Thomason, of Rome; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Thompson, of Stone Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thompson and Mrs. A. N. Plunkett of Stone Mountain.

A detailed black and white line drawing of a four-wheeled wagon. The side of the wagon's body is prominently labeled "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" in a bold, serif font. The wagon has a flatbed design with a low front and a slightly raised back. It features four large, spoked wheels. A long, thin metal rod or handle extends from the front of the wagon towards the ground. The drawing is done in a classic, hatched style.

World finance is becoming a subject of acute interest to the general public, according to the "Old Colossus," who will make his weekly appearance in the Halsey, Stuart program over WSB and a coast-to-coast N. B. C. system tonight at 8 o'clock.

Questions received in his daily mail indicate that the man in the street wants to know all about reparations and the new international bank, as well as about financial happenings in this country.

The widespread investments of the present day have made people conscious of events in which they were having no interest some years back," the "Old Counsellor" asserted. In his discussion Thursday night the Old Counsellor will touch on financial matters of current interest.

Musical interludes by a novelty orchestra under the direction of A. Sannella will present the following numbers:

Athens, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Twelve teachers of vocational agriculture were presented certificates of merit today by L. M. Piggott, Ark., July 24.—(P)—The state completed its case late today against George Parker, 15, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the death of his father several weeks ago. The defense rested its case after offering evidence that the boy was a shy, nervous child, and that his attorneys began their arguments court was adjourned until tomorrow.

The case was expected to be given the circuit court jury by noon tomorrow.

The youth was arrested July 3, after neighbors discovered the charred bones of the boy's father, Whit Parker, in the smoldering ruins of their farm home near here. Dr. George Cone, a physician, testified at the trial today that the boy confessed to him in the presence of officers that he shot his father.

Miss Frances Wells Weds Mr. Cook At Home Ceremony

Cordial social interest centers in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Lena Frances Wells and Baxton Elbridge Cook, which was solemnized Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley N. Eain, on Rumson road. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. C. Wilkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Athens, Ga. The bride had as her maid-of-honor Miss Emma Franklin Joiner and Mr. Cook had G. T. Hunt, Jr., attend him as his best man.

The bride, a beautiful young woman of the brunette type of loveliness, wore a graceful straight-line model of pink chiffon with accessories to match. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids, bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook left for a motor trip through the mountains of North Carolina immediately after the ceremony. After August first they will make their home on Linwood avenue.

D. A. R. ATTORNEY ASKS STIMSON REVIEW

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—H. Ralph Burton, attorney for the Daughters of the American Revolution, today asked Secretary Stimson to reconsider the state department's refusal to revoke the passport recently issued to Miss Dorothy Detzer, executive secretary of the Women's International League for peace and freedom.

Revocation of the passport was requested by Burton on the ground that she had not "sworn" to "defend" the constitution but had been allowed to "affirm" to "support" it, which, he contended, was improper in view of the supreme court decision in the Rosika Schwimmer naturalization case.

That request was rejected by the department with an explanation that the modified oath was considered "adequate for passport purposes" and conformed to "the established practice."

Burton today replied that an executive order by President Coolidge promulgating rules requiring an oath or affirmation of allegiance, issued under authority given to him in an act of congress, had "the full force and effect of law."

He also took "direct and positive issues" with the statement "to the effect that an examination of the oath taken by Miss Detzer shows it to be an affirmation of allegiance to the United States, because 'allegiance' has been definitely construed by the United States supreme court to include 'defend with arms'."

He also reiterated his objections to the organization with which Miss Detzer is identified. She obtained her passport to attend its impending meeting in Europe.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—The student body of Mercer university summer school will reserve a section in the Candler college yearbook for the first time in four years, it was decided yesterday at the regular chapel meeting.

Charlie Wallace, of Waynesboro, editor of next year's Candler, announced that a regular summer school staff would be appointed in the near future to handle the section under his supervision. J. B. Cousins, of Greenville, will supervise the business end of the publication.

Services for Miss Ruth Jane Elmer, who died Wednesday morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. John S. Candler, at 1192 Ponce de Leon avenue, N. E., after an extended illness, will be held at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon at St. James Episcopal church, Marietta, Ga. Rev. Robert J. Tatum will officiate and burial will be in the Episcopal cemetery, Marietta.

Miss Elmer, who would have reached her 79th birthday Saturday, had been ill since last November, although she did not become seriously so until several days ago. She was a member of the Epiphany Episcopal church in Atlanta and prior to her illness was active in the affairs of the Fielding Lewis chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Miss Elmer was born in Marietta, daughter of Jeremiah Bennett and Virginia Taylor Elmer.

Surviving her, other than Mrs. Candler, are another sister, Miss Virginia Elmer, of Bridgeton, N. J., and five nieces, Mrs. Asa Warren Candler, Miss E. E. Pomeroy, Mrs. Horace Atkins, Mrs. J. E. McKee and Mrs. Sam Guy.

CARMEN ASK CITY COUNCIL TO AID IN ENDING STRIKE

New Orleans, July 24.—(AP)—Several hundred union men today called on the city commission council in a body and formally demanded that it break the street car strike.

They requested the council to force the public service to arbitrate, to repeal the ordinance against "jitneys" and to dismiss J. P. Butler, Rudolph Hecht and J. D. O'Keefe from the city board of liquidation, as they also were members of the board of directors of Public Service, Inc.

The council said the car company refused to arbitrate, promised the union leaders not to interfere in the operation of "jitneys" during the strike and said they could not dismiss the liquidation board members because the council had not appointed them.

The council assured the men of its willingness to do all within its power to break the strike and that the council stood ready to issue permits for bus operation if the legal requirements were met.

At The ATLANTA CONSTITUTION COOKING SCHOOL It's the Hotpoint Automatic Electric Range!

NATURALLY we were pleased when Miss Bernice Lowen, Home Economist in charge of this big cooking school, selected the Hotpoint Automatic Electric Range to use in demonstrating her recipes and menus to her classes. It is a flattering justification of our belief that the Hotpoint Electric Range is just what you need in the field of efficient domestic cooking equipment. Its advantages are so numerous—involving absolute temperature control, cooking meats and vegetables without water, cleanliness, coolness, time-saving and labor-saving—that no one who thoroughly investigates can resist the "buying urge."

Certainly this is the logical time to buy your electric range. Our special sale terms are too good to miss.

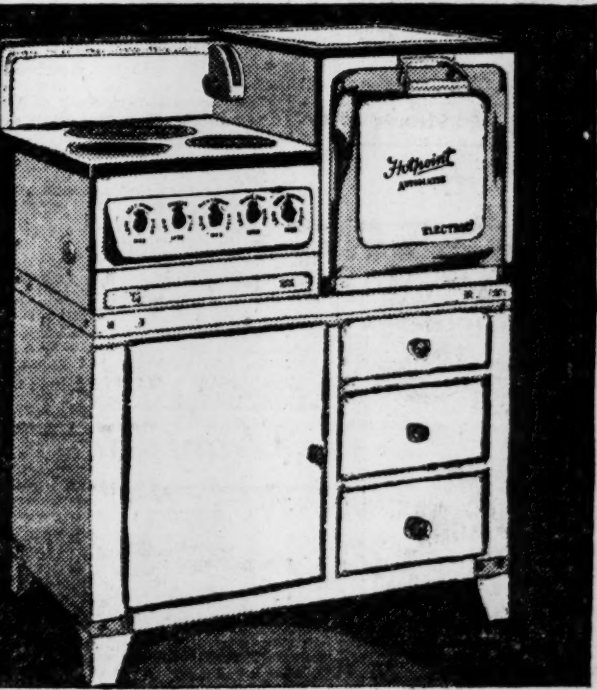

Attend the classes at Loew's Grand Theatre—10 a. m. to noon, today and tomorrow—and don't fail to stop in at our nearest retail store for full details on the Hotpoint.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

PETER FINDS THE STRANGE DRUMMER.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Politeness doth but little cost; Without it much is often lost. —Peter Rabbit.

Having found a dead tree in the Green Forest, with a great number of freshly cut chips around the foot of it, and high up in it a big hole, Peter Rabbit was greatly puzzled. Yes, indeed, Peter was greatly puzzled.

"It looks like the work of a Woodpecker," said Peter, "but from the size of that hole, I should say a lot of Woodpeckers must have been at work. Godwinking the Flicker is the largest member of the Woodpecker family of my acquaintance. I have seen a lot of holes made by Godwinking, but never in all my life has he ever cut a hole as big as this. I wonder if it's a new record."

Peter suddenly jumped right up in the air with excitement. "I do believe that this is the work of the master drummer," he exclaimed. "Who didn't I think of that before? I'll just stay around here a while and perhaps he may come back."

Now, Peter Rabbit is one of those fortunate people who can do about as they please. If he wants to stay a while, he can stay a while; if he wants to go on, he can go on. In other words, he has little to do. He has few responsibilities. The care of the children he leaves chiefly to Mrs. Peter. So now there was no reason why he shouldn't stay if he wanted to.

He found a comfortable place where he was well hidden beneath a little hemlock tree. He could peep out and see the big hole in the dead tree, and that meant that if the one who had made it returned, he would be in plain sight. After he had been sitting a little while, Peter began to get sleepy. He kept dozing off. Every once in a while he would awake with a start. But at last he fell really asleep and as there was nothing to alarm him, he slept for some time. He was awakened by the loudest rat-tat-tat he had ever listened to. It was so loud that it was startling. Peter's eyes flew wide open. He looked up at that big hole in the dead tree. There was no one there. Then he looked a little higher up. The drummer was there! In his surprise at the first glimpse of the drummer, Peter just stared with his mouth wide open. "Why," muttered Peter, "it's Blacky the Crow! I never knew before that Blacky could drum."

Now, when Peter had first looked up, the drummer was in such a position that his head and neck were hidden. At first glance he looked like a crow, but that fellow wasn't quite as big as Blacky.

"It can't be Blacky, but who under the sun can it be?" muttered Peter. "My goodness, look at the red cap he wears! It stands up almost to be as big as Blacky the Crow, and his coat was black. So Peter's mistake was excusable. A moment later he moved so that Peter could see his head and neck. Peter realized it. It is like Sammy Jay's cap, only bigger and red. And my goodness, what a bill! No wonder he can cut out big chips! Who under the sun can he be? The stranger had a surprisingly large, stout bill. What Peter called a "red cap" was really a red crest of feathers. His face and the sides of his neck were striped with white. He stretched one wing and Peter discovered that that also was barred with white. Then the stranger began to drum. He wasn't cutting out chips now. He was drumming just for the sake of hearing the noise he made. His head flew back and forth so fast that Peter's own neck ached just from watching him. And what a racket he made! Rat-tat-tat-tat! Rat-tat-tat-tat! The noise fairly rolled through the Green Forest. There was no doubt now in Peter's mind that he had found the master drummer.

Many women with dark skins, of the zesty type, in which a deep yellow tone is strong, wear the orange shades well.

Fairer yellow skins, such as some blondes have, sometimes are more flattered by the wearing of yellow greens, since the yellow in these shades blends with them, while the green effects a contrast.

But sallow skins must beware of grays and cool, putty-tone tans. These neutral shades have no contrast value—they add to the general monotonous appearance of the skin and emphasize its drabness.

Unhealthy appearances, such as violet shadows in the face, and dark circles under the eyes, are usually emphasized by vivid greens yellow greens and yellow. How To Achieve Beauty

BY MRS. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Since the trend of the day is toward health, and everyone wants to look healthy as well as to be that way, it is most important to keep your skin looking fresh and bright, without the yellow, sickly tones that are so suggestive of jaundice.

Certain all skins have a tone of yellow in them. Some have more than a little. And it is those skins, in which the yellow or greenish cast is predominant over the red-orange or ruddy brown, which must be considered carefully when costume colors and cosmetics are chosen.

The most flattering colors to wear next a definitely yellow skin are usually the analogous colors, that is, red-orange and orange-red. The amount of red in these shades reflects red into the face, while the yellow blends with the yellow in the skin, thus making it less conspicuous. A complementary shade, such as purple, would only emphasize the yellow by contrast.

Keith's Georgia.

Dolores Costello sings for the first time in "Madonna of Avenue A," the feature film at Keith's Georgia theatre this week. This picture depicts the effect that heredity has on a young girl who is thrown into the wrong environment by her mother after she has been shielded all of her life in a fashionable school. Supporting Miss Costello in this latest Warner Bros. talking picture are Grand Withers and Louise Dresser. On the stage four acts of Keith vaudeville complete the new program.

Loew's Capitol.

Norma Shearer is seen and heard at Loew's Capitol in the latest of her all-talking pictures, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," a story of British society that combines subtle comedy with intense drama. It is the picturized version of the successful stage play of the same name, reproduced with full synchronization of sound and dialogue by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Fred Ardath, popular comedian who starred in Ziegfeld's Follies and with "The Passing Show," is the headliner on

Boy, 13, Freed Emory Hitch-Hiker Returns On $3,000 Bond In Youth's Death

Augusta, Ga., July 24.—(AP)—Henry Harvey Hall, 13-year-old slayer of Clifford Reason, 16, today was released from the county jail on $3,000 bond signed by several prominent citizens, and returned to the home of his parents.

The first American production of Alexander Korda, noted European director, comes to the Alamo No. 2 theatre today. "The Stolen Bride," with beautiful Billie Dove in the starring role. "The Stolen Bride" was written and produced by Carey Wilson for First National Pictures, and has its locale in Hungary, which is, incidentally, the director's native land.

Empire. Warner Brothers' "Tenderloin," a picture of the underworld, will be shown for the last time today at the Empire theatre, corner Georgia avenue and Crew street, where it opened to large audiences Wednesday. Courad Nagel, whose remarkably fine voice opened a pathway for talking pictures, and Myrna Loy, exotic creature, are featured in the picture.

SPEEDBOAT THREATENS ROBERT E. LEE RECORD

Memphis, Tenn., July 24.—(AP)—Driving through the night for sportsmen's glory, the vanquishing of a 50-year-old will-o'-the-wisp and a five-time winner, Dr. Louis LeRoy and two sleepless, fatigued comrades tonight pushed the speedboat Bogie toward a new record for the dash up the Mississippi river from New Orleans to St. Louis. They had less than 150 miles to go.

The Bogie steadily regained time lost in two serious mishaps. It cleared from Cape Girardeau, Mo., at 9:15 p. m. It was just a few minutes behind the time of the Robert E. Lee, the old side-wheel packet which established a record of 90 hours 14 minutes in 1870, and ever since has been regarded by river sages as the boat which did the impossible.

Chester, Ill., was the next scheduled stop. Dr. LeRoy sent word to friends here that he expected to arrive in St. Louis about 6 o'clock tomorrow morning.

If he does that, he will have done what has three times failed to do. Four times the Bogie has roared out of New Orleans. Three times it has run upon one of the thousands of floating logs and saws which clog the river's channel. Last year disaster came when the boat was within 75 miles of St. Louis. Landing at 6 o'clock would eclipse the Lee record by about three hours and a half. The race began Sunday afternoon.

Far behind him, George M. Cox of New Orleans, jaunted easily along in his cabin cruiser, the Martha Jane. Dr. LeRoy and Mr. Cox agreed to pay the winner of the race between the boats one nickel. The Martha Jane experienced engine trouble before the race was well under way, and continued the run as a pleasure trip.

BOARDING HOUSE ROBBERY SUSPECT SEIZED BY POLICE

A man giving his name as W. D. Cordell, 27, alias H. P. Coleman, and his local address as 77 Baker street, is being held at police headquarters on a blanket charge of suspicion, following his arrest Wednesday night when he was said by detectives to have been trying to open the safe of a local manufacturing concern. Detectives J. C. Davis and H. W. Armstrong, who arrested him, believe that he may have some connection with the burglarizing of various boarding houses. Cordell, or Coleman, says he came here recently from Concord, North Carolina.

Officials say that a regular crime wave has been going on in local boarding houses for the past few weeks, that a man registers there for one night and makes away with whatever he can in that night. This person has been giving the name of "Coleman" in some cases, it was said.

Detectives ask all persons who have suffered at the hands of the boarding house robber to come down to headquarters and make an identification, if possible.

BRIDE OF ROGERS WINS FOR ONCE IN CUSTOMS FIGHT

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Colonel H. H. Rogers, Standard Oil millionaire, and his bride returned from Europe today, and the bride, a new American citizen by virtue of her marriage, immediately got into difficulties with the customs men. As she handed her declaration to an inspector on the pier, Mrs. Rogers remarked that she was a non-resident and therefore exempt from paying duties. "But you're married an American citizen," Inspector W. D. Murphy objected, "and that makes you an American citizen." And American citizens have to pay duty.

With their baggage and several customs men in tow, the Rogers went down to the customs house at the Battery, where Philip Elting, collector of the port, ruled that although Mrs. Rogers was an American citizen she also was a resident of Paris and therefore exempt just this once. After they had settled their difficulties, Colonel Rogers and his bride, who was formerly Mrs. Basil Millicent, the American commissioner to the International Chamber of Commerce, moved out to his estate at Southampton, Long Island.

Emory Hitch-Hiker Returns After Jaunt of 15,645 Miles

C. Monelle McMillan, erstwhile hitch-hiker from Emory university returned to Atlanta Wednesday just four months and one day following the outset of what was to be a championship tour. In the absence of any challenges for the championship, he has now been unofficially declared peer in the art of "thumbing" for a continuous tour.

McMillan covered a total distance of 15,645 miles over 41 of the United States, with two jaunts into Canada and one into Mexico. He touched the four corners of the national boundary, crossed all the principle rivers and mountain ranges, and visited every important city in the country, with the exception of Cleveland, Ohio.

The tour was begun by McMillan following his graduation from Emory university in March. He represented the Emory Alumni Association in calling upon the widely scattered graduates of the institution.

McMillan said he experienced no difficulty in getting rides. He declared that he has not had to ask for over a half dozen rides since he reached the eastern bank of the Mississippi river. The states McMillan missed were Nevada, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa and Vermont. He went west from Atlanta through New Orleans to San Diego, California, and thence to Seattle, Wash., and Victoria, Can. On his return he toured the central states to St. Louis, thence throughout the entire east in an effort to touch every important city.

Tallahassee, Fla., July 24.—(AP)—Governor and Mrs. Doyle Carlton were advised here today of injuries received by Mary, their 9-year-old daughter, in a fall from a fence while the child was at play at Tampa. Mrs. Carlton left for Tampa and the governor is to go there from Winter Haven, after introducing Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde to a gathering of fruit producers Friday. It was not believed that the Carlton child was seriously hurt, it was stated, but the extent of her injuries was not known.

Senate Springs Surprise In Confirming Appointment Of Wisdom as State Auditor

Harrison and Miss Cox Confirmed for State Education Board; Many Appointments Approved

BY ROBERT H. WILSON.
In a surprising demonstration of shifts of opinion, the state senate Wednesday confirmed Governor L. G. Hardman's appointment of Thomas Wisdom as state auditor to succeed Sam J. Slate. The vote was 23 to 19 in favor of confirmation of the Wisdom appointment, taken in executive session. The senate committee on privileges and elections previously had recommended an adverse report on the nomination by vote of 7 to 6. Nominations of John G. Harrison

Constipation and Biliousness Cause High Blood Pressure

If Alertox Fails—Call a Doctor

High blood pressure is both functional and organic, often produced by over-eating or mental strain, while constipation and biliousness are underlying causes. In either case, Alertox, a new chemical discovery, through a process of elimination, corrects all toxic conditions and tends to reduce pressure in the veins and arteries by carrying out, through the intestinal tract, excess water in the system which the sweat glands have failed to secrete. After the first dose or two of Alertox you note a decided improvement in reduced blood pressure; also, in your general health, because Alertox removes in one action, more poison bile from the system than any other known formula, leaving you content, vigorous and alert. NEW SUB SAFETY TEST PROVES TO BE SUCCESS

San Diego, Cal., July 24.—(P)—Marking another step toward lessening the perils of submarine service, the U. S. Navy today announced that a new safety test, known as the "blowing" test, had been successfully completed. The test, which was conducted by the U. S. Navy's chief of the V-4, demonstrated beyond any doubt, navy officers said, that rescue and salvage work in this manner can be carried on successfully.

In the short time following the closed meeting, the senate received a dozen new bills for their first reading. Half of these were local and pertained to single counties or municipalities. Measures offered by Senators Myrick, Lawson and Terrell, and by Senator King would abolish the Georgia industrial commission and the state board of welfare. In each case the acts creating the state boards would be repealed and the present offices closed after January 1, 1930. Senator King's bill would transfer all records and property of the welfare board to the prison commission. Senator Felix C. Williams sponsored a constitutional amendment to give the general assembly power to exempt furniture and fixtures of Georgia residents from any taxation of any kind. A number of committee reports were received by the upper house, but no definite action was taken on them. Appointments confirmed by the senate along with that of Mr. Wisdom were: John G. Harrison, of Mercer university, and Miss Nina Cox, of Ashburn, to the state board of education; Professor Harrison's name was substituted Tuesday by Governor Hardman for that of William S. Sullivan, Atlanta public schools superintendent. Other names on the third of the governor's appointment lists were approved by the upper house without debate. Action of the senate in confirming the appointment of Mr. Wisdom created much interest at the capitol, where it was the almost universal opinion that a group of senators had reached an agreement not to confirm the name of any appointee sent in by the governor to succeed Auditor Slate. Mr. Slate has served for several years as state auditor. He formerly was a member of the state industrial commission and prior to holding that position was state game and fish commissioner. The governor sent in the name of Mr. Wisdom as Mr. Slate's successor two years ago, but the senate at that time declined to confirm the appointment and Mr. Slate continued in office as a hold-over official. Confirmation of Mr. Wisdom means that he immediately become active state auditor. Mr. Wisdom is a native of Harris county and has served for several years as auditor in that county department of education. He formerly was engaged in the banking business at Chapeau.

WOMAN'S AIR DERBY EXCHANGE CLUB PLAN

Los Angeles, Cal., July 24.—(P)—Detailed plans for the cross country women's air derby from Los Angeles to Cleveland in connection with the national air races beginning August 26 were announced here last night by the National Exchange Club, sponsor of the event for the feminine fliers. Cash prizes totalling $8,000 and many trophies have been offered. Eighteen cities between Los Angeles and Cleveland will be visited by the women fliers and the derby will require eight days for completion. The entrants thus far were announced as Mary Crossman, Lady Mary Heath, Amelia Earhart, Florence Lowe Barnes, Ruth Elder, Louise McPhetridge Thaden and Bobbie Trout. Starting August 18, the women fliers are to make their first overnight stop at San Bernardino, Cal., 70 miles from Los Angeles. Other overnight stops at Phoenix, Ariz.; El Paso, Abilene and Fort Worth, Texas; Wichita, Kan.; St. Louis and Columbus, Ohio. They are scheduled to arrive at Cleveland the afternoon of August 26. Intermediate stops designated are as follows: Yuma and Tucson, Ariz.; Lordsburg, N. M.; Pecos and Midland, Texas; Tulsa, Okla.; Kansas City and Terre Haute, and Indianapolis, Ind.

WORKMAN DIES AS WATER SHORTS ELECTRIC WIRE

Brunswick, Ga., July 24.—(P)—Morris Knight, 21, was electrocuted late today when an electric light wire came in contact with water in which he was standing while working beneath a building on Seaside Beach. Knight was kept alive for hours after the shock by use of a pulmotor and artificial respiration, and for a time it was hoped he would be resuscitated.

BROMLEY IS GIVEN PERMIT TO LAND IN TOKYO FLIGHT

Tokyo, July 24.—(P)—Official permission was granted today by the Japanese government to Lieutenant Harold Bromley, American aviator who plans a Tacoma-Tokyo flight, to fly over Japan and land at Tachikawa air field, 25 miles west of Tokyo.

CUBAN TYPHOID EPIDEMIC TAKES ITS FIRST LIFE

Cardenas, Cuba, July 24.—(P)—A typhoid fever epidemic which has caused the Cuban federal sanitation corps to isolate this city today took its first life. Dasso Garcia Suarez, seven-year-old son of a prominent family, died early this morning after a two days' illness. Of the 23 known cases, eight are reported incurable. Six new cases were being investigated this morning. A cordon of municipal police, rural guards and soldiers, stationed along the highways leading to the city and the railroad stations, today prevented anyone from entering the fever-infested city. Each day witnesses long lines of residents before the public clinics, where compulsory vaccination is given. The city water supply, held responsible for the epidemic, is being chlorinated.

Council Likely To Approve Sale of Site to Goodrich At Special Session Today

Body Also Will Consider Protest Against Measure Diverting Insurance Firm Taxes.

Approval of sale of a tract of city-owned land on Hemphill avenue and 14th street; protest against a bill pending in the Georgia assembly which would take about $200,000 in taxes on insurance concerns from the treasury, and consideration of school city and divert it into the state administration; changes which would abolish the present board and set up another consisting of seven members will come before the city council at a special session slated for 3 o'clock this afternoon. It was announced Wednesday by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, who called the meeting.

The Georgia legislature already has approved the sale of the site to the Goodrich Rubber company for location of a gigantic southern manufacturing plant, and ratification of council is needed to complete the sale. Work will be begun at once following council's action this afternoon.

Would Await Referendum.
None of the provisions of the new paper would be effective until a city-wide referendum has been held and a majority of those voting have cast ballots in favor of the change. Councilman Harry York, of the sixth ward, appeared before the committee to fight the tax increase.

"The best solution of the Atlanta school problem is to establish a metropolitan school district and let Fulton county operate them," Mr. York said. "This would solve the financial problem and at the same time provide more money for other city departments."
"Fulton county operates at a cost of about $45 per student, while it takes about $65 in Atlanta."

SLAYING OF OVERBECK CONFESSED BY NEGRO

Discharged Employee of Ice Firm Admits Killing White Man Last Week.

Confession of Solomon D. Springer, 22, negro, that he administered wounds resulting in the death of R. V. Overbeck, night engineer for the Atlantic Ice & Coal Company, was secured Wednesday, according to Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole.

Mr. Overbeck died in Grady hospital Monday morning without gaining consciousness. He was found during the night of July 19 in the basement of the ice plant at Decatur street and Piedmont avenue with four fractures of the skull and contusions of the brain. Springer is believed to have beaten him over the head with a leaded billiard cue and escaped after robbing Mr. Overbeck of his watch and pistol.

According to the confession of the negro, he visited the ice plant in an attempt to secure a job from Mr. Overbeck. He had been discharged by the company a month previous and was refused a position by the slain man. Springer claims he then left the boiler room where Overbeck was working, but returned later to find the engineer chasing two unknown negroes with a pistol.

The confession states that Springer tried to stop Overbeck and grabbed his pistol. When the white man struck Springer with a flashlight he held in his other hand, the latter beat Overbeck into unconsciousness with the billiard cue he had brought with him from a near-by room. He then took the watch and pistol of the engineer and fled.

Police Wednesday recovered the pistol of the dead man from Frank Kent, negro, who said he had bought it from Springer. The watch was found in possession of Springer at the time of his arrest. Five negroes have been arrested in the case, but one of the suspects was released Tuesday.

State Convention Of Colored Baptists Enters Second Day

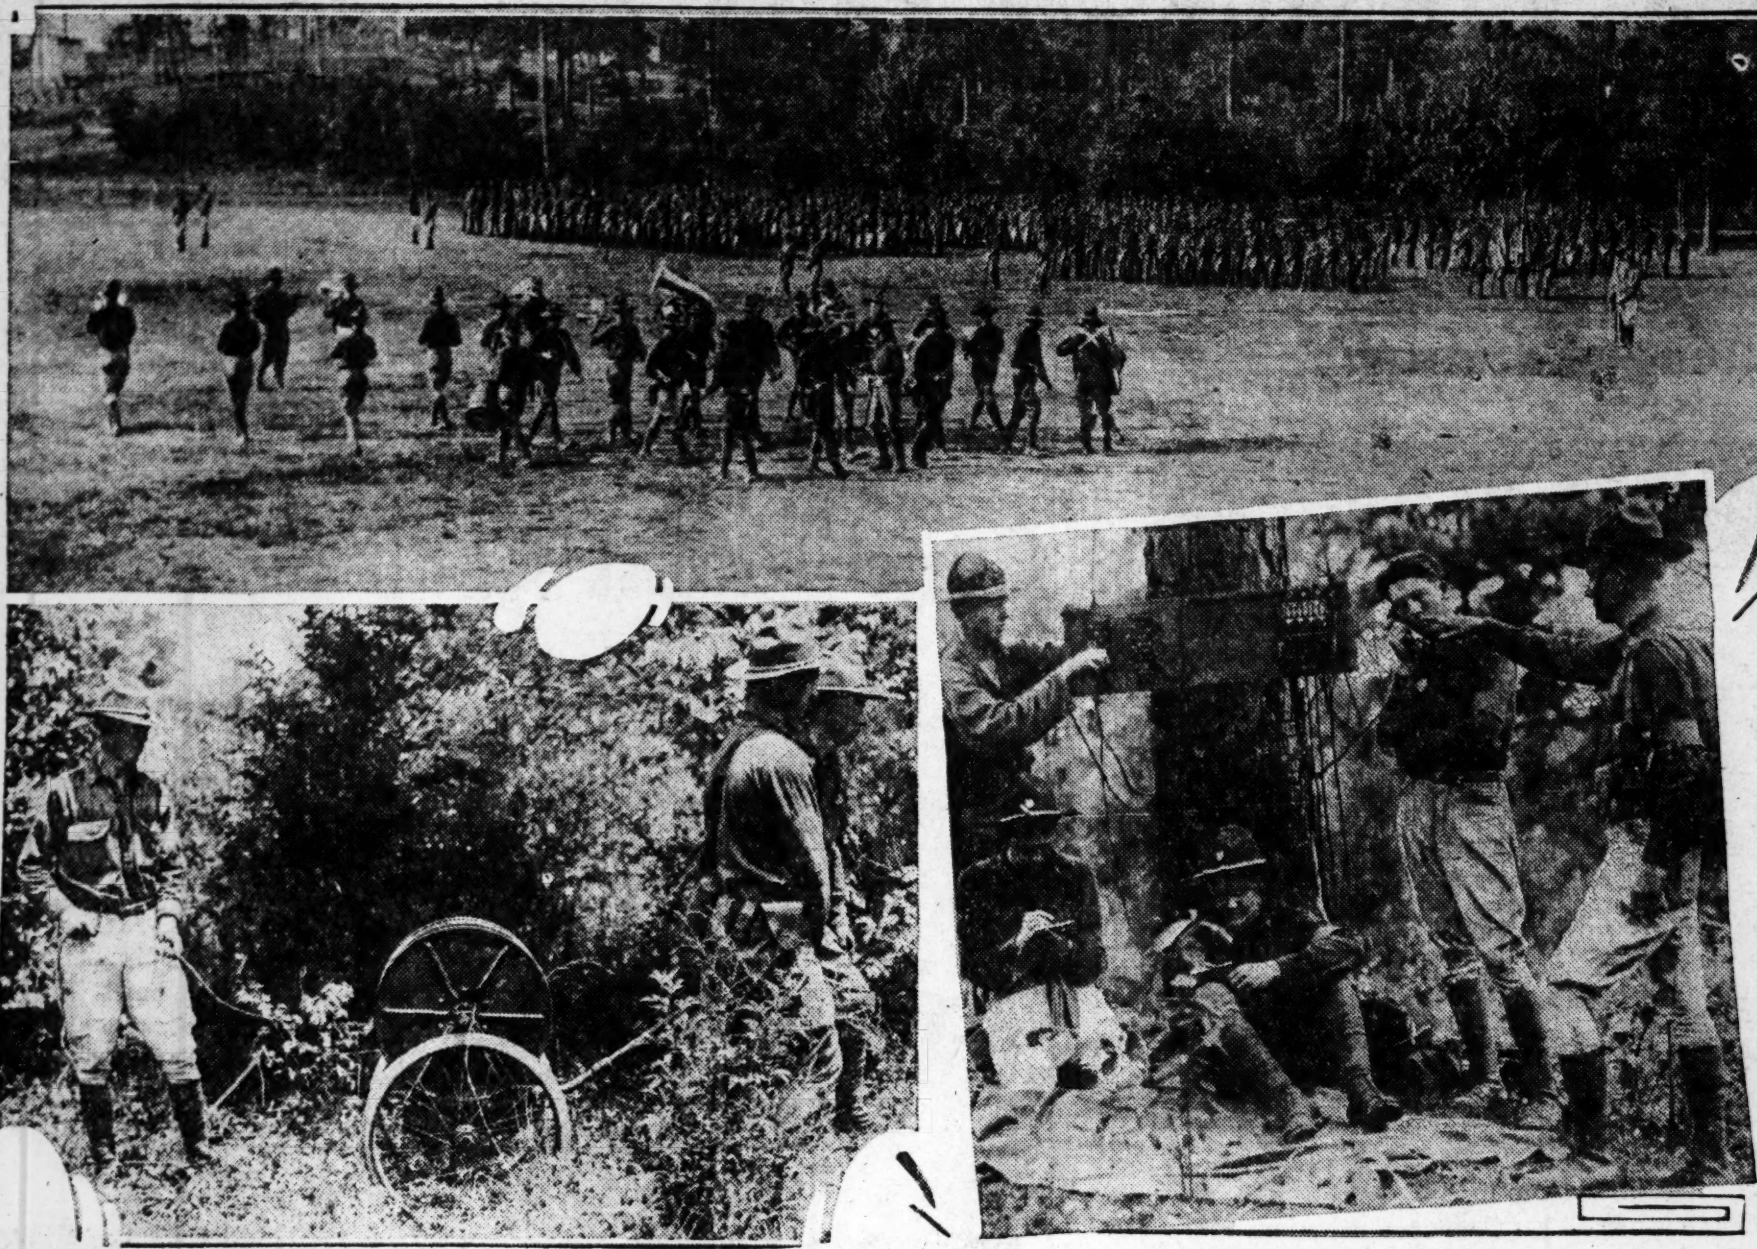

Thomasville, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—The state convention of colored Baptist Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. workers went into its second day's session today.

Today's session was called to order by Vice President E. G. Thomas, of the Sunday school department, and Professor W. L. Hughes, Dublin, of the B. Y. P. U. department. Doctor Hubert, dean of the school of religion, Morehouse college, delivered an address on "The Minister." The Rev. Mr. Calloway, of the white Baptist church, this city, was introduced. He brought greetings from his congregation and extended an invitation to the body to visit and inspect the new Sunday school department of his church.

Dr. James M. Nabrit, president of the general conference, which is the parent body, led the session on the drive to raise the denominational budget.

Following this, President J. H. Evans delivered his report. Dr. Evans was presented a silver loving cup by the Mt. Moriah church, Eastman, and a banner covered with dollar bills coming from Mt. Oliver church, Macon. He serves these two congregations as pastor.

MAN IS CHARGED WITH LIQUOR DEALS IN CITY STOCKADE

Augusta, Ga., July 24.—(P.)—Charged with carrying on liquor deals while a federal prisoner at the city stockade James E. Smith, sentenced at the last term of federal court here, was bound over this morning under $5,000 bond on charges of violating the prohibition act. Smith pleaded not guilty when arraigned before C. House Committee Makes 3 Tours In State Today

Waycross, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—The conservation committee of the lower house of the Georgia legislature, accompanied by newspapermen of the state and cameramen, will arrive in Waycross early Thursday morning to initiate three tours of investigation in this section of the state.

The first tour will carry the party to Cogdell, Ga., to study methods of reforestation and diversified farming. The second will lead into the great Okefenokee swamp and the third will be to St. Marys, Fernandina and Brunswick to study the feasibility of the proposed St. Marys-St. Marks canal.

GEORGIA MONEY LENDERS TO HOLD MACON MEETING

Macon, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—The Georgia Industrial Lenders' Association will hold a regional meeting here July 25 at the Hotel Denney. Representatives and members engaged in industrial lending from all sections of Georgia will be in attendance.

The morning session will be devoted to reports of officers and committees and other special business of the association. Frank Oliphant, of Macon, will address the lenders following the luncheon at 12:30 at Hotel Denney.

At the afternoon session T. G. Wilson, of the Household Finance Corporation, of Atlanta, will address the meeting on "The Aid of an Exchange Bureau to Both Borrower and Lender." T. E. Winslow, treasurer of the Personal Finance Company, of Savannah, Ga., will address the meeting on "The Kind of Advertising Needed in the Small Loan Business." The following Atlanta lenders will be in attendance at the meeting in Macon: R. K. Lanham, A. B. Madison, C. T. Disner, J. B. Smith, C. G. Mathis, E. T. Fisher, E. B. Zachary, W. M. Ragsdale, W. L. Adair, E. M. Wightman, T. G. Wilson, C. Y. McCollum, R. F. Davis, B. L. Lassiter, L. G. Brock.

CO-OP ASSOCIATION CALLS CONFERENCE ON DRAINAGE AUG. 21

Waycross, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Following a preliminary conference on drainage held in Alma last week under the auspices of the Southeast Georgia Co-Operative Association, a section-wide conference has been called for Wednesday, August 21, to be held in Waycross. It was announced here today.

The Southeast Georgia Association is inviting all the congressmen representing the counties south of Columbus, Macon and Augusta, Senators Walter F. George and William J. Harris, and the heads of the various organizations in the state who are interested in better health conditions, reforestation, road building and agricultural development. These objectives, as they may be attained through systematic drainage, will be thoroughly discussed.

PICTURE FILM BLAZE DOES SMALL DAMAGE

Waycross, Ga., July 24.—(Special.)—Fire, which last night destroyed several hundred feet of film at the Orpheum theater, was extinguished by the Waycross fire department. The fire was almost under control when the department arrived. Operator Moss Cottingham battling the flames unassisted until fire apparatus arrived. Little damage was done and the picture was being again screened shortly after the blaze was put out.

MRS. ADELAIDE CHISHOLM DIES AT THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, July 24.—(Special.)—Mrs. Adelaide Evans Chisholm died at her residence here Tuesday night after a long illness.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon from the residence by Rev. Charles M. Meeks, pastor of the Thomasville First Methodist church, of which Mrs. Chisholm for many years had been a member.

She was the widow of the late John B. Chisholm. Surviving her are two sons, John B. Chisholm, of Valdosta, and Tim B. Chisholm, of Thomasville; two daughters, Mrs. I. M. Cox, of Valdosta, and Miss Frances Chisholm, of Thomasville, and two sisters, Mrs. Julia E. Robinson and Miss Frances Evans, both of this city. Interment will be in Laurel Hill cemetery here.

Nu Icy Assorted Flavors YOU CAN'T FORGET

Look for the tall, half-pint Nu Icy bottle... it towers above all others.

How's this for a hot-weather dinner?

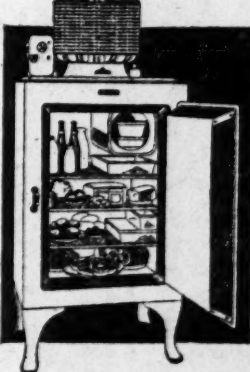

One of these evenings, when you're exhausted from the heat and nothing tastes good, how would you like to sit down to a dinner like this? An ice-cold fruit cup, jellied chicken and ham, a salad of crisp lettuce with a stuffed tomato in aspic. And, for dessert, a strawberry sundae. Tempting, isn't it? And so pleasantly easy to prepare.

All the real work can be done in the cool of the morning. Then your General Electric Refrigerator will do the rest... chill new flavor into every course.

Fifty degrees is accepted by scientists as the "danger point" in the preservation of food. When the temperature rises even a degree or two above that, bacteria multiply, foods become unsafe to eat... a positive menace to health. In the General Electric Refrigerator the temperature is automatically kept several degrees below fifty—always. Countless superiorities give the General Electric Refrigerator its outstanding position... an hermetically sealed, dust-proof mechanism, mounted on top... an accessible temperature control... quiet operation... no oiling... no troublesome machinery... simplified installation... no radio interference—a two-year guarantee.

These are some of the reasons why the General Electric Refrigerator was selected for the ALL-ELECTRIC COOKING SCHOOL, sponsored by the Atlanta Constitution, that has been appearing at Loew's Grand Theatre this week, the last demonstration of which will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Be sure to attend the last lecture tomorrow—then stop in at our display rooms and let us explain in detail the fourteen vital points of superiority embodied in the General Electric Refrigerator. Let us help you select the proper model for your home, and tell you how easily it can be purchased on our easy payment plan.

MISS BERNICE LOWEN, Home Economist in charge of this event, has selected the Hotpoint Electric Range to use in all her class demonstrations... which is fortunate, as it gives an excellent opportunity for you to see this modern range in operation. She will show you how you can put a dinner of Baked Ham, Scalloped Potatoes, Spiced Carrots, Stuffed Tomatoes and Date Pudding (to give only one of the many menus) in your Hotpoint oven at 10:30 A. M. Then you set the oven regulator at 350° and your timer to turn the oven ON at 4:00 P. M. and OFF at 5:30 P. M. You have the whole day to yourself—from a few minutes after 10:30 until 6:00 P. M. (or even later). That's another reason... one of many, including coolness, cleanliness, economy, safety, and others... why you should own a Hotpoint Electric Range.

It has not been so many years ago that the furnishings of the home were selected because they "looked well," little thought being given to the comfort and convenience of the housewife. Today, however, comfort, convenience and beauty are three of the requisites of almost any article that goes into the modern home. That is the reason that the General Electric Products shown below were selected for The Constitution Electric Cooking School. Each of them is the last word in beauty, and each was designed especially for the comfort and convenience of the modern housewife.

SCREEN GRID RCA RADIOLA 46

Perfect reproduction of all the notes in the musical scale—the natural deep rumble of the base drum—the shrill notes of the fife. All are brought to you clearly over the Screen Grid RCA Radiola 46, the latest achievement of the RCA laboratories.

Here is an article which you would be proud to own. The radio itself is housed in a beautiful walnut and maple veneer console cabinet with RCA Electro-Dynamic Speaker, which harmonizes with any period furnishings you might have in your home.

Realizing that the modern housewife has many civic and social duties which require a great deal of her time, Miss Lowen has selected the Hotpoint Automatic Electric Range for use in her classes.

With the Hotpoint Automatic, no woman need spend long hours in the kitchen. Just place the entire meal in the oven, set the time and temperature controls and forget it. When you return home the meal will be ready to serve.

It's surprising how cool and clean your kitchen will be. All of the heat is retained in the range by perfect insulation and there is no soot or fumes to ruin the furnishings.

Be sure to attend these classes and see for yourself just how easy it is to cook this modern way.

"Blue Monday" is no longer "blue" to the woman who owns a Thor Combination Washer and Ironer. It's the very thing you've been waiting for—one that's so low priced you actually can't afford to be without it. One that's so neat, compact and handy—it takes almost no room at all. The Ironer heats in 4 minutes, that's as fast as an ordinary electric iron, and irons faster than any machine you've seen. Irons 90% of your laundry in one-third of the time.

Loew's Grand---

Dear Friends:

With half of my series of lectures behind me, I find myself looking forward to the lectures that remain with a mingled feeling of joy and regret. I have been able to bring to you something of the new developments in cooking and cooking apparatus and somewhat sorrowful that a highly enjoyable visit to your city must soon end.

The continued cooperation of everyone connected with this enterprise will ever remain a pleasant memory and the wonderful reception which I have thus been accorded has been most helpful and inspiring. Any failure on my part to fully express my appreciation for this assistance could be the basest ingratitude.

Two of my lectures have been delivered. But two more remain. Each one is as complete as I possibly make it, there is no reason for anyone to stay away merely because they have not yet attended. Try to be on hand this morning and Friday and I believe you will be well repaid for your time.

Most sincerely,
BERNICE LOWEN.

The Remarkable Purifier

Endorsed by Miss Lowen

With a Charbox

in your refrigerator (either iced or mechanical) you can now keep onions and milk, cantaloupe, meats, cream, etc., in the same refrigerator without fear of any item becoming contaminated with flavors of other foods.

Make your refrigerator a safe and sweet refrigerator. The odors from edible meats and fruits will very often contaminate baby's milk, ruin the butter, salads, etc. Charbox, the Remarkable Purifier, absorbs these odors as fast as they are given off, and will keep the box sweet and fresh. Charbox will repay its cost many times over thru its savings of food from contamination. No germ-laden odors can escape it. Each item of food retains its own individual flavor, as Charbox absorbs free odors and gaseous flavors and is itself absolutely odorless. How Charbox Works: Simply remove a Charbox from its carton, lift off protective moisture proof pads and place the Charbox on its edge on the top shelf of your refrigerator (either iced or mechanical). It immediately goes to work and begins absorbing the odors and gases that carry a flavor. As the air is constantly circulating in the refrigerator it will pass thru the Charbox where it is cleaned and allowed to pass on. One Charbox will keep your refrigerator sweet for three (3) months before replacement becomes necessary. Charbox is for sale at grocery stores, drug stores, hardware stores, department stores and at all Georgia Power Co. retail stores. Price, 75c each.

"After thoroughly testing Charbox, I find that it will absorb the odors and gases in refrigerators (either iced or mechanical). It also eliminates the mixing of flavors in different foods."

The IRON FIREMAN
Automatic COAL BurnerMakes Luxurious Comfort
an Economy

Luxurious comfort descends upon your home the very day you install the Iron Fireman. Immediately a perfected mechanical servant is on the job—doing all the hard work of fire tending.

Your Iron Fireman thermostat wakes up the furnace and starts the heat before you waken in the morning. All day long the rooms are kept at just the temperature you like best, regardless of the weather outside. And all you do is fill the hopper with coal periodically. No wonder your friends envy you!

Unless they have an Iron Fireman, your friends do not know half of the story... the wonderful half that saves you countless trips to the basement, gives you even heat, a clean furnace room... that actually saves you money. Here is luxury with economy, for the Iron Fireman burns the small, less expensive sizes of coal, saving dollars in fuel bills. Iron Fireman "Forced Underfiring" obtains the maximum heat from every ton of coal. All volatile gases are burned. Nothing is wasted as smoke.

It can be installed quickly in any kind of home furnace, either old or new, with practically no interruption in heating service. We shall be glad to examine your furnace and show you how to secure the greatest possible comfort at lowest cost. Write or telephone for full information.

Are You Reading FREE, WHITE and FEMALE?

If You Failed to Start Clarence Budington Kelland's Amusing Yarn, Here Is Your Opportunity

The Constitution Thinks This Story So Good That It Wants All Its Readers to Be In on the Fun. We Are Consequently Reprinting on This Page the First Three Installments. Today's Regular Installment Is in the Two Right-Hand Columns of the Page. Dip Into a Column or Two of Free, White and Female, and We Feel Sure You Will Want to Follow the Adventures of the Eccentric But Lovable Bundy Family Daily In The Constitution

CHAPTER I.

"There ain't been," said Mr. Bundy, "but four girls born on this land since it came into the family."

He paused and looked cornerwise across the table to the blackened sideboard of oak, with its pairs of wooden pegs and its crude embellishments from the hand of the first American Bundy. Across its top he saw a small legend in low relief which said, "Timoleon Bundy—1698."

"There's been plenty he Bundys born here since we finished up that furniture, but we never saw a girl to girls—a number of people can be begot and die in two hundred and thirty years."

"We started off well," said Damon. "Two sets of men twins."

"And then her," said the old gentleman. "I often wonder what came over me. He ruminated upon the aberration which had caused him to sire a woman child. 'First off came Damon and Pythias, and then in two years Theron and Jerry. It began to look like considerable of a generation to me. Still an all, four boys ain't so bad. . . . I recall plain the day she was born. I wasn't exactly displeased, you understand, but kind of flabbergasted—not having contemplated that particular sex. So I says 'a girl, a girl, you name her. I ain't got any ideas to fit the case.'"

"We haven't seen her since Christ-mas," said Gelon, speaking for himself and Theron.

"None of us have," said Pythias. "But she was an awful thing."

"Four years," said Mr. Bundy. "Seems like we almost lost track of her in that time."

"She's got good legs," said Damon, and stands straight and keeps her chin in the air."

"Smart as a whip," said Theron. "Women hadn't ought to be too smart," said Mr. Bundy. "It's hard on their husbands."

"I don't know if you men realize it, but she's a ringling beauty," said Pythias. "Our front stoop's got a lot of it cluttered up with giggling boys."

"She's twenty," said Gelon.

"And all educated up," said Mr. Bundy. "I don't know as we did right to let her go to that college."

"Had to back her play, didn't we?" Pythias asked.

"Trouble is," said the old gentleman, "us Bundys haven't many precedents to fall back on in bringing up girls."

"She's one of the family," said Theron. "Just as much as if she was entitled to wear pants."

"To be sure," agreed Mr. Bundy. "You have to give different medicines for different diseases."

"I saw Roswell Hilday in town," said Damon, changing the subject. "Must have gotten that Paris divorce," observed Mr. Bundy. He frowned and grumbled, and was a good deal of a scowler.

"When I was young," said Theron, "I socked young Mortimer Blade. His brother was there, too, and never lifted a hand."

"I never knew that," said Gelon. "What did you sock him for?"

"Because," said Theron, "this great-grandfather did what he did to our great-grandfather's sister."

"Jerry never was much with fists," said Mr. Bundy. "Always settled their grudges with money ways."

"One thing I'll say for Mr. Bundy," said Pythias. "Nobody ever started anything with one of us under the delusion the road would lay off."

"What's the matter with Mortimer's brother?" asked Theron.

"Quarreled with his dad and disappeared," said Gelon.

"No stability," said Mr. Bundy. "They're able-bodied haters, anyhow," Damon said. "None of them have liked any of us for a couple of hundred years."

"Except Roswell's great-grandfather and my great-grandfather," said Mr. Bundy.

"Oh, that," said Pythias. "Mr. Bundy cleared his throat. "These days," he said, "a gentleman has to have about as much money as he can get."

"I'm getting at it," he paused. "What I'm getting at is you boys'll be making one of these days."

"Don't know if it's for Theron's benefit or Gelon's," said Damon. "They always flock in a pair."

"I was saying something," said Mr. Bundy.

"Bundys, come to order," said Theron, pounding on the table. "Family council."

"Informal," said Mr. Bundy. "Now, I was the only child my mother had, so I got the Bundy property, lock stock and barrel."

"To be sure," said Theron. "But there are four of you boys, not to mention Martha."

"We'll get it, won't we? In a block, I mean," Gelon said. "Never been any family divisions here, have we?"

"No. The properties have always passed on as a whole, and every heir had an undivided share. Mr. Bundy frowned. "But with such money as we have we haven't enough. Plenty for me and to keep you going while you're single. Ought to be just five times as much."

"Then let's make some," said Theron. "Let's quintuple the old family fortune."

"I was thinking of something of the sort," said Mr. Bundy. "But I've been raised conservative."

"And you've raised us," said Pythias. "Something's got to be done," Mr. Bundy said. "You boys get busy and think up a scheme. I foresee Martha's going to be expensive."

"Never heard of a Bundy speculating," said Damon.

"How far did you chase him?" asked Pythias with real curiosity.

"Only as far as the black walnut tree," said the old gentleman. "He got too good a start."

"I bet Theron and I wangle out a scheme," said Mr. Bundy.

"It won't be as good as Pythias' and mine," said Damon.

"What we want is one plan we can all get behind," said Mr. Bundy.

"Can't have Bundy's scattering like shot out of a blunderbuss."

"All for one and one for all," quoted Gelon. "I read that in a book. Theron and I read books. That's why we're so much more sought after than our brothers. We're cultivated."

"Martha is the cultivated one," said Mr. Bundy. "A trifle unsteady."

"Thank God when we saw her Christmas she didn't have her hair bobbed."

"She acted," said Pythias, "like she wasn't saying right out all she thought."

"And you couldn't most always sometimes tell what she meant from what she said," added Damon.

"Best-looking skirt in that diploma mill though," Gelon said warmly.

"I was I had more experience with women," said Mr. Bundy. "But your ma wouldn't tolerate it. I never did get much into that woman."

"The trouble with making money quickly," said Damon, "is you got to risk money."

"The Bundy family have been risk-eyes," said Theron, "and they're richer than we are."

"They might not have been," said Mr. Bundy. "I bet the first ancestor had emigrated to America with a couple of scruples. They weigh down a man so when he's speculating. Especially if he gets back in a corner."

"There's days," said Damon, "that would be terrible dull here if we didn't have Blades to hate."

"Put your complaints in writing and hand them to the house committee," said Gelon.

"You never would get an idea. You've been brought up wrong."

"She's got to talk about freedom and self-expression," said Damon.

"Something like it," answered Theron. "I'm sick and tired of being one movable part of a machine. I'm not something that fits in like a spare. I think it's built of epigrams."

"We're Bundys, explained Mr. Bundy.

"If one of you goes to whittle a stick and then comes back again, you're all cut off the same piece."

"You think alike and talk alike and emote alike. If the five of you were to sit in the dark and talk, a stranger would think it was a whist game."

"All I want," said Mr. Bundy gravely, "is that she should be a lady like your ma was."

"How dare you how dare the night my brother," said Damon, "she's still our sister."

"I'll go back the car out," said Mr. Bundy.

"And garage doors are expensive," explained Theron.

"I haven't even scraped a door in weeks," said Pythias.

"We ought to hire a chauffeur," said Gelon.

"Couldn't be done. We talk too much," said Pythias.

"Get a deaf-mute."

"Couldn't hear the other fellow hating," said Pythias. "If he doesn't hate, he's not a Bundy."

"This evidently referred to his father and was so accepted. Pythias, casting a shower of gravel in his mind for an amusing story, said Theron, "I've seen it stewing."

"Oh, got that in the car," said Damon, "but I ain't got it up. Don't get him live as he ought to be. He's a Bundy. I'm getting at it you boys'll be making one of these days."

"Don't know if it's for Theron's benefit or Gelon's," said Damon. "They always flock in a pair."

"I was saying something," said Mr. Bundy.

"Bundys, come to order," said Theron, pounding on the table. "Family council."

poised young woman resolved into action, not waiting for the porter to place the step, and hurried herself upon her father. Immediately she became submerged in Bundys and so invisible to the public eye.

"I've been home two weeks," said Martha Bundy.

"No question about it," said her brother, Theron.

"I'm conformed," said she, "to what?" asked Pythias.

"Bundyism," said Martha. "I'm Bundied and Bundied and Bundied all over the world. The biggest of the 'ge' ideas is that I'm going to earn my own living."

"Gosh!" exclaimed Gelon.

"I'll accept nothing from any of you, least of all meddling in my affairs."

"It's more than we thought," said Mr. Bundy.

"It's darn near appalling," said Theron. "Martha, you must be some sort of a throwback. I never heard of a Bundy like you."

"Settled," said Gelon, "and the meeting rises."

"Some day!" said Theron. "We lose a sister and gain a fortune."

"How much," asked Mr. Bundy. "do you guess it will take to swing it on the start-off?"

"Twenty thousand payment to Bunker. Say another $25,000 to get under way."

"I move we fly at it," said Theron enthusiastically.

"Take a 10-day option," said Mr. Bundy. "That will give us time to find out this and that and be sure we're getting off."

the meeting necessarily is brief. To get any results, whatever one might be nimble. May I call upon you in the city?"

"Why?"

"I like situations. There would be a certain piquancy about it. . . . aside from which you are a most unusual Bundy. In fact, I can take in more territory and say you are a most unusual young woman. You are so much more than a Bundy."

"Your conversation would be uplifting. In short, I want like the deuce to know you better."

pleasant voice, piquant with down-eastern accent, spoke to her. Damon looked up from her waffle to see a serious but lovely face confronting her. She pronounced it "cabin" very markedly.

"Do you mind?" asked the girl. "If I breakfast with you? I can't bear the thought of eating alone this morning."

"I'm lonesome myself," Martha said. "Do sit down."

"I can't sleep," said the girl abruptly.

"Sounds interesting," said Martha.

"And I," Martha said, "sleep like a top."

"I wouldn't mind so much if one didn't think. Lying awake and thinking and thinking and thinking. . . . She drew her shoulders together with a little shudder. "I can't tire myself out."

THE RETURN OF TARZAN No. 40

All day long Tarzan crouched in the Chamber of the Dead's gruesome shadows—waiting! And waiting, hopelessly too, on the lonely beach where they had been shipwrecked, the three castaways managed to live a month. The two men built a crude shelter in the branches of a tree, gathering fruits and trapping small animals.

Savage denizens of the jungle made hideous hours after darkness. Jane's thoughts often reverted to her former experience on this wild shore. Ah, if the invincible forest-god of that dead past were but with them now! No longer would there be cause to fear the prowling beasts or the bestial, sinister attitude of the disguised Russian.

A scant five miles north of their jungle shelter, all unknown to them lay the snug cabin of Tarzan of the Apes. Still further up the coast lived in comparative comfort a little party of eighteen souls. These were the occupants of the other three lifeboats saved from Lord Tennington's sunken yacht. None of them now was much the worse for the experience.

Nearly two months of desolate existence had slowly passed for the ragged, fear-haunted trio, when the great calamity befell. Jane sat looking out to sea, always hoping a vessel might be sighted. She did not hear the jungle grasses part behind her nor see the grotesque creeping form. A filthy paw stifled her screams and she was born swiftly into the jungle.
